FEDERATED INDIA RECOMMENDED AT LONDON PARLEY BY HINDU POTENTATE

Maharaja of Bikaner Quotes
From Lincoln's Second Inaugural Address in Appeal—Says States Now Are Autonomous.

MEN WHO TREATED WITH GANDHI SPEAK

Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru Tells Round Table Conference That British Statesmanship Is on Trial Before Eyes of the World.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Debate on whether India's future should be shaped along the lines of federalism or a powerfully centralized government opened at today's first session of the Round Table Conference.

The Maharaja of Bikaner, Hindu potentate and ruler of his native state for 22 years, concluded an appeal for the federalization of India by quoting a famous passage from Abraham Lincoln's second inaugural address.

He said: "With malice toward none, with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in."
The Maharaja said a sovereign Parliament sitting at Delhi would be impossible because of India's diversity. He urged a Federal system composed of British India provinces and the Indian states.
He pointed out that the states already were sovereign and autonomous and that an all-Indian federation was the only solution likely to prove satisfactory to all sections of India.

"The Prince cannot be coerced,"
he declared.

Gandhi Mediators Speak.

Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru and M. R.
Jinnah, Indian leaders, who concluded negotiations with Mahatma Gandhi in India in an unsuccessful effort to find a settlement of the Indian problem, also addressed the meeting.

"An anxious restless India is aching for freedom," he said to Prime Minister Macdonald, seated in the red seat of chairman. "We have come amidst the lives of our countrymen and already have been called traitors to the Indian cause."

Determination for Equality.
"It is perfectly natural that we should seek freedom, but freedom must be achieved by the British rulers," he said. "We want and are determined to achieve the status of equality—equality with the nations of the British commonwealth, equality which gives us a government responsible to popular opinion."

The Indian princes, he said, are primarily Indian princes, and then secondly Indian princes, owing to their common mother country.
He said a solution of the Indian problem rather than protection of their rights.

The Tej described the present Government of India as one of Parliamentary sovereignty by a Parliament of 600 placed 6000 miles away, the majority of whose members had neither the knowledge nor the capacity to understand India.

On Provincial Autonomy.
"To take a provincial view and be provincial patriots, who would be of no use unless it were counterbalanced by a decided and clear vision in the institution of the central government. The central government must be made responsible to the legislature."

Sapru urged that Indian princes join in such an all-India federation—Remember they are Indians and Indian princes are Indians.

Community Fund Needs $936,000 To Reach Its Goal of $2,200,000

WITH only three days remaining of its campaign to raise $2,200,000, the Community Fund today announced that it was $936,000 short of its goal and that it could be stated with certainty, on the basis of results so far achieved, that the goal will not be reached.

The campaign chairman, Sidney Maestre, issued the following statement:
"At the outset of this campaign we stated that the public would be told of its progress
as promptly as the facts became known to us, and in keeping with this promise we are publishing all the figures in our possession.

"The special gifts division has outstanding cards of prospects
who last year pledged $80,172.
All other divisions have outstanding cards of prospects who last year pledged $417,575. If all of these pledges are renewed at face value, then the grand total will be $1,954,098, or $265,901 short of our goal. The above
tional pledges made last year
for a three-year period.

"From a analysis of the results so far obtained, we can state with certainty that on this basis our goal of $2,200,000 will not be achieved.

FORD TO BUILD NEW ASSEMBLY PLANT IN MEXICO CITY

It Will Have Capacity of 100 Cars
Daily; Minimum Wage About $4.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 17.—The Ford Motor Co. announced that work will begin in December or January on a Mexico City assembly plant capable of turning out 100 cars daily. The project will involve an investment of more than $1,000,000. The cars will be sold here for export to other parts of the world. The minimum wage will be paid for silver pesos as a means to strengthen the exchange of silver against gold, and all materials purchased in Mexico will be paid for in silver.

The minimum wage will be raised to 8 pesos. Little less than $4 a day. It was stated that all material used in construction of the plant would be Mexican, and only Mexican labor would be employed.

The present plant has a capacity of 30 cars daily.

FARM LEADERS' CONFERENCE

McNary Calls Meeting to Outline
Congressional Policies.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—A conference of agricultural leaders was called today by Chairman McNary of the House Agriculture Committee to convene next week to discuss the farm situation and the necessity for any further legislation at the approaching short session.

Senator McNary invited to the conference Secretary Hyde, Chairman Leake of the Farm Board, L. J. Tabor, master of the National Grange, C. E. Huff of the Farmers' Union, and S. H. Thompson, president of the Farm Bureau Federation. In his invitation McNary said he desired "an informal discussion" of the farm legislative situation in executive session with the members of the Senate Committee on Agriculture before Congress meets.

$1,263,435 GIVEN COMMUNITY FUND, ONLY 3 DAYS TO GO

Maurice J. Cassidy of Building Trades Council, and William H. Danforth Address Workers.

ORGANIZED LABOR
GUESTS AT LUNCHEON

Sidney Maestre, Chairman
of $2,200,000 Campaign, Warns Goal May Not Be Reached Thursday.

In the first seven days of the Community Fund campaign, $1,263,435 has been pledged, leaving $936,565 to be raised in the remaining three days of the campaign. If the $2,200,000 goal is to be reached.

Pledges reported today by volunteer workers meeting at Hotel Statler at noon showed that about 57 per cent of the quota had been reached.

This situation prompted the issuance of a statement by the Community Fund, through its campaign chairman, Sidney Maestre, to the effect that the goal will not be reached unless the money is coming in on last year's basis and in increased subscriptions.

If all last year's subscribers who have not reported this year renew their pledges on the same basis, the goal would still be $265,901 short, he said.

Maurice J. Cassidy, secretary of the Building Trades Council, and William H. Danforth, president of the Ralston-Purina Co., were the speakers at the luncheon. Representatives of organized labor were guests of honor.

Community Fund leaders conferred with division and unit heads until a late hour last night in an effort to speed up the campaign. Cassidy said the campaign continues solicited yesterday.

Among 31 additional increased pledges reported last night were the following: $500 or more, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Murphy, $1500, an increase of $300 over last year; Edward A. Nixon, $1250, increase of $250; Mr. and Mrs. E. Lansing Gray, $1200, increase of $400; Mr. and Mrs. Gray, $1200, increase of $100; Birch O. Mahaffey, $500, increase of $100; Mr. and Mrs. Orin J. Willis, $500, increase of $100.

The Commercial Division reported that employees of the B-G Sandwich Shops had subscribed eight times as much as last year. Employees of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. already have pledged $3052, an increase of $1300 over last year.

Today's Community Fund radio programs, Two Soldan High School students, James Chantard, baritone, and Alvin Dinkin, violinist, entertained over Station WFL at 2:45 p. m. At 6 p. m. Wabston Chubb, a director of the International Institute, will make an address over KWK.

On the same program Miss Karpinski will sing in Polish. The Federated Club, a Polish singing society, will entertain at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow night over WFL.

Talks by Beneficiaries.
Yesterday Miss Mary Hamilton, 86 years old, who has been a resident since 1914 of the St. Louis County Old Folks' Home at Kirkwood, a participating agency, spoke on behalf of the Community Fund over Station KMOX.

Today, speaking as "Billy Smith," told how he has been helped by the Community Fund. He is a member of the Big Brother Organization, another participant in the Community Fund.

Adjutant Ellen Benson, superintendent of the Salvation Army Women's Home at Hopson, told how that Community Fund agency cared for babies.

Answering questions about the operation of the Community Fund, Robert W. Kelso, director, said that the money was distributed indiscriminately in the city and county as needed by the various agencies. Nor do the agencies in general discriminate among races or creeds, he explained.

By the Associated Press.
BARCELONA, Spain, Nov. 17.—One workman was killed and several others were seriously wounded and sent peaceful citizens scurrying to cover. Following attacks by strikers, streets car and bus employees also quit work.

A mob armed with clubs and guns attacked the telephone building in the heart of the city, but was routed by mounted police. Industry was at a standstill, shops were closed, newspapers suspended, and theaters and cafes were dark.

University students joined the demonstration and the authorities ordered the university closed indefinitely.

The subway was still running late in the day, but there were few passengers, and the streets were patrolled by heavy detachments of civil guards. Armored cars and machine guns were in the barracks ready for immediate use.

Several persons were wounded. The strike developed here at the same time at which that at Madrid ended. It grew out of the walkout of transport and construction workers, who demand higher wages.

Since the transport workers, which has been in effect for several days, was augmented first by a sympathetic walkout of construction workers. Others joined rapidly.

Meanwhile dispatches from Valencia said a strike there was spreading. At Asturias, where 20,000 coal miners walked out last Friday, the situation was well in hand and the strike appeared to be ended. At Oviedo, workers who struck last Monday were reported returning to their jobs and conditions were approaching normal.

STRIKERS IN MADRID RETURN TO WORK

Following Riots.

MADRID, Nov. 17.—A feeling of sharp apprehension prevailed here today, although the city was getting back into its stride after a 48-hour general strike which paralyzed transportation and threatened a food and water famine.

Two hundred Communists and a few Socialists have been arrested in connection with the disturbances of the last three days here.

Thousands attended motion picture shows last night, while troops with mounted machine guns stood watch outside.

The labor unions ordered their members back to work today, deciding they had succeeded in voicing their protest against "police brutality" in handling a riot when two of their number were killed and 200 wounded. Taxicab drivers were sent back to jobs first, returning at midnight. Street car workers returned at 7 a. m.

FOUND DEAD OF MOTOR FUMES ON STARTING TO HUNT

Harry G. Gaus, 48, Head of Manufacturing Firm, Victim of Carbon Monoxide Poisoning.

BODY DISCOVERED
BY SON IN GARAGE

Indications Are He Was Adjusting Machine When Overcame at 6372 Washington Av.

By the Associated Press.
HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 17.—The body of Harry G. Gaus, 48, head of manufacturing firm, was found dead, apparently of carbon monoxide poisoning, in the garage behind his home, 6372 Washington avenue, Parkview, early today.

The garage doors were shut, the hood of one of the Gaus automobiles, a coupe, was raised, and the motor was running. Gaus lay on the floor, a screwdriver in one hand. Police scurried from grease stains on his hand that he had been making an adjustment on the motor.

Gaus had planned to leave home before daybreak to go hunting near Silex, Mo., his widow told University City police. He was dressed in hunting clothes when found, and in the car was a shotgun and other hunting equipment.

The body was found by a son, H. Russell Gaus, who had been summoned by a private watchman. The watchman, Charles J. McMillen, said he noticed a light in the garage at 4 a. m. while on another street, and started toward it.

However, the light was turned off before he reached Washington avenue. McMillen reported, and he continued his rounds. When he saw the garage again, at 4:30, the light was again burning and McMillen heard the motor running.

The son, investigating, found his father's body and summoned Dr. V. V. Wood, 6368 Washington, while McMillen called the University City Fire Department. Dr. Wood pronounced Gaus dead, but firemen worked over the body for some time, with an inhalator.

Made Commercial Refrigerators.
Gaus' company, at 2810 North First street, was formed in 1923 for the manufacture of commercial refrigerators. He formerly was an officer of Henry Gaus & Son, a planning mill concern started in 1863 by his grandfather and liquidated in 1926.

Gaus was 48 years old. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Birdie May Gaus; the son, and a daughter, Miss Edna Gaus, 21.

OPERATION OF ONE-MAN CARS STARTED ON BROADWAY LINE

50 Motormen and Conductors Put in Other Jobs, Trolley Company Says.

One-man operation of street cars was started yesterday on the Broadway Line, the longest in the city.

The one-man operation is augmented during the rush periods by several cars with the usual crew of two men. About 50 motormen and conductors, who are no longer needed on the cars, have been placed at transfer points to assist in collecting fares and at railroad crossings as flagmen. No men have been dismissed as a result of the change, it was announced.

The Street Car Men's Union has entered a vigorous protest against one-man cars. Officers of the union recently took their complaint to Mayor Miller, stating one-man operation generally would cause serious unemployment. The protest probably will be taken to the State Public Service Commission, it was said at union headquarters.

In addition to the Broadway line, one-man cars are run on the Southampton line, in the city, and on the Kirkwood-Ferguson and Grove Coeur lines in St. Louis County.

DO-X OCEAN FLIGHT IS STILL UNCERTAIN

Depends on Weather at Lisbon and Motors — Delay Till Spring Possible.

By the Associated Press.
BORDEAUX, France, Nov. 17.—The feeling grows here that the flight of the Do-X, giant German seaplane, across the Atlantic to New York will not take place until next spring.

In aviation circles it is declared that the motors of the plane have not functioned as well as had been hoped and that the ship's crew are too well aware of the growing unsatisfactory weather conditions from this season on to risk such a hazardous trip when the short flight from Calabar to Bordeaux was not accomplished without mishap. It is pointed out that although the ship was designed to fly 125 miles per hour, it has not yet averaged 100.

Dr. Charles Dornier, designer and builder of the craft, insists that the flight has not been abandoned but that a definite decision will be made at Lisbon, Portugal, from where the plane has intended to take off for Horta, Azores, and stop on the projected trans-Atlantic flight.

The plane will leave here Wednesday for Corunna, Spain. The big plane took a group of French officials and newspaper men on a brief ride this morning. As she flew over Bordeaux at 1000 feet all her motors appeared to be working perfectly.

"We do not want to attempt anything unreasonable," Dr. Dornier told the Associated Press. "But should the trans-Atlantic flight be postponed until spring, it will be only due to unfavorable weather, and not because of any lack of confidence in the motors or boat. Our motors thus far have given us entire satisfaction. If we were forced to alight on water off the Venetian Coast, it was because darkness was coming on, and also fog—our bitterest trans-Atlantic enemy. We felt safer on the surface of the water than aloft. I believe the fact that the DO-X taxied 100 miles on the water to shelter behind the Isle de Re was quite a performance."

The DO-X remained in the Gironde Estuary yesterday instead of coming up to Bordeaux.

150 JAILED FOR 30 DAYS FOR RIOTING IN HAVANA

Judge Says "I Witnessed Your Depredations and Attacks on Property; No Testimony Is Needed."

HAVANA, Nov. 17.—One hundred and fifty persons arrested in riots since Friday today were sentenced to 30 days in jail.

The judge said: "I witnessed your depredations and attacks on property. No other testimony is needed. Take a vacation to cool off."

Police said a code seized in the arrest in Santiago last night of Jacobo Augustin Pino, alleged radical chief, implicates a number of members of the national Communist party in Cuba. Sedition literature also seized urges overthrow of "the man"—a reference presumably to President Machado. Pino was placed in a military fortress for the duration of martial law.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The rolling kitchen of the 307th Infantry, U. S. A., began serving soup, coffee and cake to unemployed in midtown Manhattan today.

TRUST COMPANY
ALSO SUSPENDS

"Withdrawals in Past Week
and Constantly Increasing Rumors on Streets" Given as Reasons in Statement by President.

By the Associated Press.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 17.—The National Bank of Kentucky, the oldest bank in the State, was closed today by resolution of its board of directors and placed in the hands of a national bank examiner. The Louisville Trust Co., an affiliated institution, also was closed by its board of directors.

James B. Brown, president of the National Bank of Kentucky, issued the following statement:
"Due to withdrawals in the past week and constantly increasing rumors on the streets, it was deemed advisable by a majority of the board of directors to close the bank, at least temporarily, for the best interests of depositors and all concerned."

Other Banks Declared Solvent.
Presidents of other Louisville banks issued statements that their depositories were solvent.

Brown recently announced that a proposed affiliation of the interests of the Bank of Kentucky and Caldwell & Co. of Nashville, now in receivership, had never been consummated.

The National Bank of Kentucky, founded in 1834 as the Bank of Kentucky, had a capital of $5,000,000, in its last statement listed total resources of $54,701,633.36 and deposits of $41,145,794.40.

Directors of the bank in their resolution of the action was taken "to conserve the resources of the bank for the benefit of its creditors." Directors of the trust company said the concern was placed in the hands of the Commissioner of Banking of Kentucky "to conserve its assets and trust estates for the benefit of all concerned," adding that the officers thought the company solvent.

Three years ago directors of the Louisville Trust Co. approved a reorganization of the stock of the trust company with the stock of the National Bank of Kentucky.

On July 19, 1929, coincident with announcement of the formation of the Bank of Kentucky Co., trustees participating shareholders of the National Bank of Kentucky and the Louisville Trust Co. were offered Bank of Kentucky stock on the basis of two shares of Bank of Kentucky for each trustee's share held.

Last Wednesday Brown, who also is president of the Bank of Kentucky, and Richard Bean, president of the Louisville Trust Co., announced the merger would be complete by Dec. 1, adding the combined institution would have with the addition of the trust company a capital, surplus and undivided profits of $50,000,000, deposits of $50,000,000 and resources about $70,000,000.

Other Banks Closed.
The First Standard Bank and the American Mutual Savings Bank, Negro depositories, were unable to open today because their funds were on deposit with the Louisville Trust Co.

The Security Bank, affiliated with the National Bank of Kentucky, also announced temporary suspension here today.

The notice follows: "Although, in the opinion of its board of directors, the Security Bank is solvent, the board of directors, in the interest of and to safeguard the rights of its depositors, deemed it advisable that the bank should suspend business at least temporarily, and that its affairs be placed in the hands of the State Banking Commissioner, who will make due report of the bank's financial condition."

The McElwain Mutual Bank & Trust Co. of Franklin, Ky., also closed today. Its announcement said it had to shut down because the National Bank of Kentucky was one of its correspondents and that its depositors would be paid in full.

In Louisville slightly more than 100 persons were unemployed because of the closing of the banks.

NAVAL LIMITATION DEBATED AT GENEVA

Italy Reaffirms Reservation
Made at London—Russia Offers Amendments.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Nov. 17.—The preparatory disarmament commission today tackled the problem of methods of limiting naval armaments.

Resolving itself into a subcommittee, it debated the results of the London naval conference and the Washington treaty. These results were presented by the great naval powers in draft form designed for consideration by all the powers in the draft general convention.

Gen. De Marinis, the Italian delegate, at the beginning reaffirmed Italy's reservation made at London that "the Italian Government cannot definitely accept any method of limitation of naval armaments of strength and maximum level of tonnage have been agreed upon by the different powers."

The draft submitted by the great powers provided chiefly: (A) A total global limitation of war vessels tonnage. (B) A table of limitation by categories. (C) Provision for the transfer of some tonnage from category to category. (D) Capital ships limited to 35,000 tons with a gun caliber maximum of 16 inches. (E) Limit aircraft carriers to 27,000 tons.

Maxim Litvinoff, the Russian delegate, proposed several amendments. To Article A, that the powers limit existing tonnage by a percentage which shall not be exceeded during the life of the treaty; to Article B, that the states with navies above 200,000 tons limit their total tonnage at certain figures and, to delete Article C which permits transfer of tonnage from one category to another.

normal numbers of customers gathered at the other banks but nothing approaching a run was noted. Crowds around the National Bank of Kentucky and the Louisville Trust Co. delayed traffic slightly and special police were on duty.

Hundreds of municipal employees felt the pinch of the suspensions. They were paid last Friday by checks drawn against the National Bank of Kentucky and those who failed to cash them promptly were without immediate funds. Friday's payroll amounted to $20,147.

29 ARKANSAS BANKS CLOSE FOR 5 DAYS

By the Associated Press.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 17.—Officers of the A. B. Banks & Co., Arkansas financial house, announced today that 29 banks in the state with which the company is affiliated had suspended payments to depositors for five days. Eight other affiliated banks advised the company they were remaining open.

The company said it had not heard early today from 12 others as to what action they were taking.

Under Arkansas law the banks may remain closed five days and at the end of that time decide whether to reopen.

With the exception of the American Exchange Trust Co. here, the Merchants' and Planters' Trust Co. of Pine Bluff and the Merchants' and Planters' Bank at Helena, Co., also were enjoined from proceeding further except by consent of the court.

J. J. Harrison, vice president of the A. B. Banks & Co., said he expected at least half of the banks would reopen.

The American-Exchange Trust Co. of Little Rock, one of the oldest and largest banking houses in the State, suspended payments to depositors for five days.

A directors' statement said action was "forced upon by excessive withdrawals totaling more than $4,000,000, during the past 10 days, following the announcement of the financial difficulties of Caldwell & Co., investment bankers of Nashville, Tenn."

The statement expressed the opinion the bank was solvent and that "with the co-operation of our depositors a plan can be found to resume operations."

Deposits on Sept. 24, the date of the last bank call, were given as $15,014,583.41. The bank was capitalized at $1,000,000 and had a surplus of $500,000.

The statement also said affairs of Caldwell & Co. "are remote from Arkansas and nothing but an excited public mind could have forced the closing of this strong bank."

Friday night A. B. Banks, president of the bank, announced the comparatively small interest held in the bank by Caldwell & Co. had been purchased by local capitalists. This action, Banks said, "completely divorced Caldwell & Co." from the bank.

MICHAEL STRANGE LECTURES ON STAGE

Actress Amuses Junior League
in Recounting Her Prejudices.

"Some of my terrible prejudices about the theater," as Michael Strange (Mrs. Harrison Tweed) put it, kept a capacity audience at her lecture today in the Junior League Monday morning series in alternate ripples of applause and appreciative laughter for more than an hour.

The actress, playwright and poet made it dead clear that a chief prejudice was against "that obsession of money plastered to art which is making a number of producers unable to pay their laundry bills." Another of the bad ones was against "misunderstood geniuses" who might be really "humiliatingly registering their only reaction to the speed and complexity of the age—their nervous prostration."

She spoke with disrespect of the trivial "realism" that may deal of love in speakeries and cafeterias, and treat people clinically as inhuman creatures "holding their brains up in bottles—and what brains!"

"Why should we care what happens to these dull fellows?" she asked. "They are nobodies. Who cares what happens to a nobody?"

"Out of Touch With Good Gin." "The authors," she declared, "seem to be out of touch with good gin or sun or air or anything that the rest of us are in touch with."

Their mental state, she declared, was that of one coming home from a bad night, staring at his face in the mirror, finding little face to stare at, and setting himself to convince everyone else that nobody had more.

"These fellows have a great talent to report, to analyze and pick to pieces and dissect on a grand scale—a horribly grand scale—a nobody. But they lack the genius to create for us, on a grand scale, a somebody."

She dwelt on the Greek and Elizabethan dramatists who wrote, not about the sickly urges of dull people that characterize a lamentably numerous class of modern plays, but about "passions—that all of us have carried in our lives or dreams—in the most astonishing people they could conjure up." The people of 1930 will "listen to Hamlet talking to himself," she said, because "Hamlet" was written "by a man who had felt life first in his circulation and then in his brain."

It must be said for the movies that they try the epic and magical and romantic "she remarked. "But it would be an awful thing if they were to supplant the stage. It will never happen unless we all go mad together—which, I often think, we may."

A Thrust at the Producers. "These men with long cigars in New York, who know what the people want," she remarked, "know it so well that nine out of 10 times in the last three years they've been on the wrong horse. Those are the figures."

She cited Eva Le Gallienne's success in producing the finest plays at popular prices in her New York repertory theater "and making hits of them." She did not find it wholly extraordinary, since, "I believe profoundly in the public. I think the mechanics of making money in the theater has stood between the artist and the public."

In conclusion the speaker read a few of her poems, including those on Beethoven's Fifth Symphony and to her three children. She was formerly Mrs. John Barrymore.

The writ enjoins all creditors or claimants from instituting any separate suits against Caldwell & Co. All parties to "any and all suits now pending against Caldwell & Co." also were enjoined from proceeding further except by consent of the court.

The petition for the general creditors' bill was filed by attorneys for Fred Dean, Birmingham, Ala., complainant in the receivership suit.

DESCRIBES LIGHT IN SKY IN SHAPE OF QUESTION MARK

Normandy Man Observes Brilliant Phenomenon and Dozen Meteors in West.

A huge band of light in the form of an almost perpendicular question mark with a flat upper U facing the south and a long tail dropping toward the horizon was observed in the western sky at 4 a. m. today by William E. Patch, 8221 Glen Echo drive, Normandy.

"I was suddenly awakened by a blinding light in my face," Patch related, "and thought at first a great searchlight had been turned through the west window near my bed."

"Looking out the window I saw this huge upright band, brilliant with a white, incandescent light. It must have lighted up the whole countryside."

"It was a little north of due west and the open arc of its top appeared to cover about 75 feet of sky. The straight dangling tail seemed about 3 feet wide. The white light lasted about 30 seconds and then the tail turned cherry red and disappeared in a few minutes."

"The U, however, continued moving away from me from east to west and remained visible to the naked eye for 25 minutes. I timed it with my watch."

Patch awakened other members of his family, who witnessed the phenomenon with him. Patch is president of the Perfection Enamel Co.

While Patch was watching the U of light he saw about a dozen small meteors in other parts of the sky. These probably were some of the November Leonids which were expected in profusion during the early morning hours of the last several days.

The main body of the Leonids, which appears in 33-year periods but which disappointed astronomers when last due in 1939, is expected to reappear in 1952.

DR. WALDO BRIGGS DIES; FUNERAL TOMORROW

Medical Teacher Here Since 80's Will Be Buried in Nashville, Tenn.

The funeral of Dr. Waldo Briggs, veteran medical teacher, will be held tomorrow morning at the home of his brother, Samuel S. Briggs, in Nashville, Tenn. Dr. Briggs, who was 74 years old, died yesterday at his home, 6639 University drive, of diabetes.

Dr. Briggs was a son of Dr. William C. Briggs of the medical faculty of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, who was a former president of the American Medical Association. He was licensed to practice medicine in Missouri in 1884, and was the inventor of several instruments and appliances used in medicine and surgery. He was for several years professor of surgery in Beaumont Medical College.

He became owner and dean of the St. Louis College of Physicians and Surgeons, at Jefferson avenue and Gambier street, in the period when several medical colleges were in competition in the local field. The administrative policies of the school were under attack at various times, and in 1923-25 the institution was involved in charges of issuing diplomas to unqualified persons, some of whom had used false credentials for their preliminary qualifications.

The State Board of Health heard the charges of irregular practices, and Dr. Briggs' defense, which was that the improper acts were those of his subordinates, committed without his approval or knowledge. His attorney, the late Andrew C. Maroney, compared Dr. Briggs to the late President Harding, as having suffered abuse of confidence and betrayal by subordinates.

The board found Dr. Briggs guilty of participation in the acts charged, and revoked his license as a practitioner of medicine until he should close the P. & S. College or reorganize it as a Class A medical school, it having been rated as Class C.

Following the board's action, Dr. Briggs resigned as a member of the St. Louis Medical Society. An appeal to the courts by Dr. Briggs was unsuccessful. The P. & S. College was deprived of its charter in 1927 through proceedings instituted by the Attorney-General. Later, the Missouri College of Medicine and Science was opened in the same building. Dr. Briggs was president of this school until his death.

His widow, Mrs. Anita Blom Briggs, survives.

TRUCKS BARRED FROM ROAD

A temporary order restraining the A. Morgan Hauling & Express Co., 2923 North Broadway, from operating overloaded motor trucks on State highways was issued today by Circuit Judge Peary in a suit filed by the State Highway Commission.

It was alleged that employees of the company have been counted 16 times in the last two years of operating trucks loaded beyond the maximum weight established by State law.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF OVERLAND CASHIER

James McGauley Accused of Shooting T. V. Phelps in Holdup in 1929.

Selection of a jury began in Circuit Judge Brackman's court at Clayton today for the trial of James McGauley, charged with first-degree murder of Toddle V. Phelps, cashier of the Overland State Bank, who was shot in the back in a holdup of the bank, Jan. 18, 1929.

Prosecuting Attorney Castlen, associated with Jacob M. Laahy as special prosecutor, announced the death penalty would be sought. It was expected that Lawrence G. Ahrens, who signed a statement last summer naming McGauley as the slayer, will be the principal State's witness.

McGauley, 31 years old, appeared in court in a neat dark suit with a brown necktie, tan shirt and tan shoes. Stocky-built, and with a ruddy complexion, he wore his black hair smoothly parted and a mustache closely cropped. Sitting behind his attorney, Paul S. Richards, he seemed alertly interested in the examination of witnesses. His wife sat among the spectators.

Several prospective jurors who expressed conscientious scruples against capital punishment were challenged by the State. It was not expected that testimony would begin until tomorrow.

McGauley was indicted last January for murder and robbery with Ahrens, William O'Hara and Lawrence McBride. Sylvester Baldwin, gangster and resort proprietor, had been tried for the murder by a jury which could not agree, and subsequently was freed.

After Baldwin was freed, Ahrens repudiated his confession, but after the indictments were returned, reversed himself again and pleaded guilty of robbery. Sentence has been deferred pending the trial of McGauley, who was brought from the Michigan State Prison at Jackson, where he was serving a life sentence for robbery while armed.

Ahrens' confession, according to police, is supported by the evidence of a finger print on an empty whisky bottle found in the automobile used by the robbers. This print, police say, corresponds with one taken of McGauley, showing the middle finger of his right hand, and was unlike any of Baldwin's prints. Ahrens had said McGauley drank from the bottle as the car approached the Overland Bank.

McGauley, who has insisted he was at St. James, Mo., the day of the robbery, told a Post-Dispatch reporter today he had always led a life of crime but denied he had ever killed anyone.

BOY, 13, STONED TO DEATH
Five Companions Are Held for Court Hearing.

NORTHFORK, W. Va., Nov. 17.—Bruised and battered by stones hurled by playmates, Norman Williams, 13 years old, struggled home to his father, but died Saturday night as the father bore him in his arms up the steps of a hospital.

Five other boys, ranging in age from 8 to 15 years, are held in the Northfork jail awaiting a hearing before a Justice of the Peace.

All six, they said, were returning home from a movie. Norman lagged behind. As he caught up with his companions, a stone was thrown, and then another. Soon it was a fight, five against one. It ended when Norman dropped to the ground and the other five fled to their homes.

FEDERAL CONTROL OF UTILITIES' RATES AT ISSUE IN SUIT

Pennsylvania Firm's Action to Escape Audit by Power Commission to Be Argued at Washington Today.

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 201-205 Kellogg Bldg.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Governor-elect Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, in a comprehensive statement, has served notice on the privately owned electric utilities companies that he feels it his duty to fight against inflated valuation of utilities securities and the subsequent high electrical rates.

The statement was issued in reference to the Clarion River Power Co.'s injunction suit against the Federal Power Commission, by which the power company is seeking to escape an audit of its books by the commission. Should the company win its suit, the commission would lose virtually all authority to supervise the hydro-electric projects licensed under the 1920 Water Power Act.

Although the case is the most important to confront the commission, Chairman Wilbur told the Post-Dispatch as late as two weeks ago that all he knew about the suit was what he had read in the newspapers.

Pinchot has been a student of conservation and public utilities for many years. He characterized the Clarion River case as a "matter of great importance."

Question of Inflated Valuation.
"The question involved," he said, "is whether the people shall pay electrical rates reasonable enough to yield a fair return on the actual investment of an electric company or high enough to pay a return on inflated valuation."

"The decision to be reached is whether the actual original legitimate investment of an electric water power company shall be accepted as the base upon which the rates to be paid by consumers will be calculated, or whether the company's own padded statement shall be accepted on its face."

"The company concerned is the Clarion River Power Co., whose plant is on the Clarion River in Pennsylvania. The rate bases in question are the company's statement of $11,023,000 and the finding of the Federal Power Commission, which is $4,645,000, or less than half."

"The Clarion River Power Co. is owned by the Associated Gas and Electric Co., which supplies electric service over one-third of Pennsylvania and in many other states."

Importance of Ruling.
"The case at issue will be argued in Washington before the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. If the decision of the Court should be adverse to the rate payers of Pennsylvania, and should later be sustained by the Supreme Court of the United States, the cost to Pennsylvania would be serious. For it would mean, first in the case of the Clarion River Power Co. and later for other companies, that the consumers of current would pay at least double to the owners of the company what they could be required to pay if the finding of the Federal Power Commission is sustained."

"The Clarion River Power Co. contends that the Federal Power Commission has no right to examine the company's statement as to what was the original legitimate investment or to correct the company's figures if shown to be wrong. If this contention were finally to be sustained, any power company in the United States, including Conowingo and Wallenpaupack, could choose for itself the amount of investment upon which it would require consumers of electricity to pay dividends. In that event there might be no authority, either in Washington or in Harrisburg, with power to check the accuracy of their accounts."

Neckties as Rate Basis.
"The need for such checking appears from the fact that the Clarion River Power Co. included in the actual original legitimate investment in its works such items as $144 worth of neckties bought of Vantine in New York, and also cigars, dinners and more than $4000 charged to the expenses of the grand opening."

"Far more serious are unsupported items totaling $1,121,942.67, and expenditures of J. R. Paull, $448,722.50, as set for the accounts of the commission."

"On such items as these, if the Clarion River company's contention should be sustained, the people of Pennsylvania who consume its current would be required to pay interest forever."

"Moreover, if the Clarion River company's contention is sustained, every water power plant holding a Federal license not on public lands will be free to establish such a rate base for calculating its charges to the consumers as it may happen to choose. What this means is sufficiently evident from the unbridled overcharges which the Associated Gas and Electric Co. and other companies are already collecting in Pennsylvania and throughout the United States."

"What may be of even greater importance is that the rate base thus established will fix the conditions upon which Pennsylvania, or any municipality in Pennsylvania, may at the end of 50 years from the date of the license take over the Clarion River power project or any other water power project in the State of Pennsylvania."

ROOSEVELT PROPOSES LOAN FUNDS TO AID UNEMPLOYED

New York Governor Says System Can Be Successful If Put on Sound Basis.

By the Associated Press.
ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 17.—Gov. Roosevelt hopes to make the cornerstone of New York State's unemployment relief a system of loan funds to sustain those without work. He announced today he had reappointed the committee for the stabilization of unemployment as an emergency commission to deal with the problem this winter and until the emergency is abated.

He set as one of the body's chief tasks development of a loan system, locally directed.

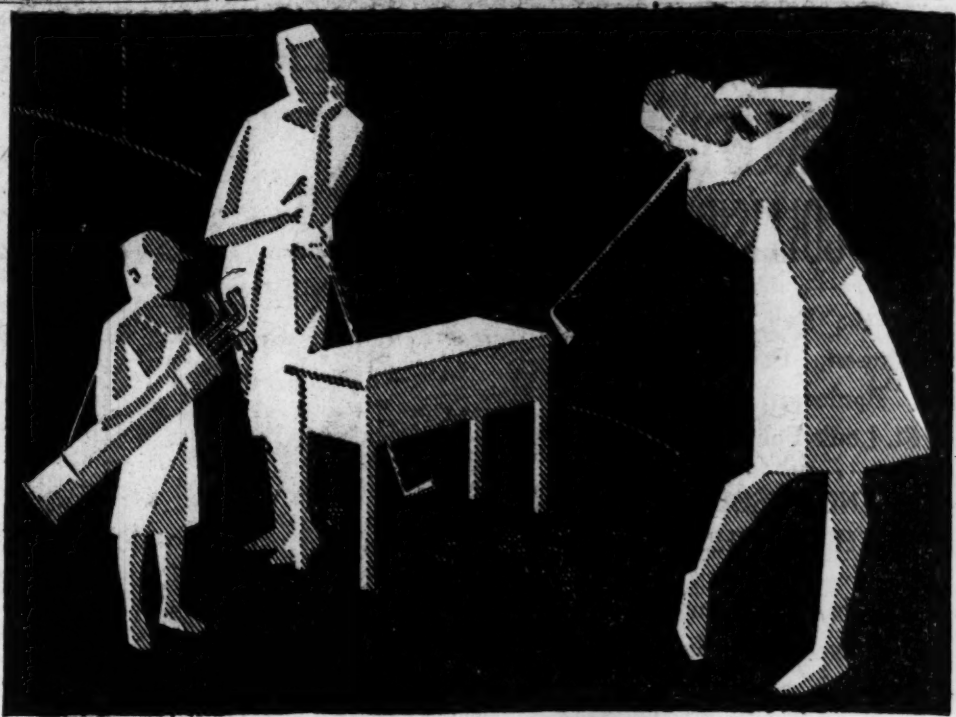

"I am convinced," the Governor said, "that such loan funds can be very successfully and democratically administered if they are set up on a sound basis with the participation of the banking and business interests."

FEDERAL ESTIMATE OF JOBLESS 3,400,000

Commerce Department Figure for September Covers "Probable Minimum."

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—At least 3,400,000 persons "able to work and seeking employment" are estimated by the Commerce Department to have been jobless in September.

The total, which was said to be "the probable minimum," includes the unemployed without jobs and those with jobs who had been laid off but does not include persons working less than the normal work-day or work-week.

"It should be pointed out that this figure is only an estimate," the Commerce Department said. "It is based on the approximate number of 2,500,000 persons who were reported as without jobs by the unemployment census of last April."

"It should also be remembered that over 45,000,000 persons are classed as gainfully employed in this country and that the volume of unemployment here is far below that of the other great industrial nations, largely because of the measures which have been taken during the past year."

The statement said the estimated figure for August was 3,500,000, but that the "apparent improvement" was not significant because it was due entirely to seasonal causes. It added that October figures were not available, but that "the number of unemployed usually increases in that month."

Stressing that the estimates are "at best approximations," the statement added:

"These August and September figures were estimated on the basis of the April census return, as affected by the month-by-month changes in employment since April. These changes are reported monthly by employers to official agencies, and include figures for agriculture, manufacturing, construction, anthracite, bituminous, metalliferous, mining and quarrying, public utilities, railroads, wholesale and retail trade, and hotels."

YOUTH PLUNGES TO DEATH FROM FIFTH STORY OF HOTEL

Police Unable to Determine Whether Corban Wilde Leaped or Fell.

Corban Wilde, 19-year-old mechanic, 944 Regina avenue, Luxembourg, was killed early yesterday, when he fell or jumped from a fifth-story room of the St. Regis Hotel, 421 North Broadway.

Wilde had taken the room a few hours previously under the name of Harry Dowd. The body, found at 3:45 a. m., was clad in underwear. It was identified by Harry Wilde, an uncle, 945 Regina avenue.

Police found some liquid labeled poison in the room, but learned it was prescribed by a physician as a wash for an infected finger.

FOR CLEARING PLAZA SITE

Removal of buildings from the site of Memorial Plaza, except the few where tenants' leases have not terminated, was urged by the Tenth Ward Improvement Association, meeting yesterday at Koekuk Hall, with the idea of providing work for the unemployed. The resolution also called for "preparation of the grounds," although the city has no funds for that.

The association opposed the tentative idea of city officials of putting a parking strip in the center of Gravois avenue, when it is widened between Russell and Grand boulevards, in event the Public Service Co. is permitted to remove its tracks to save paying its share of the paving cost.

The New Ford

is an economical car

to own and drive

LOW FIRST COST, LOW COST OF OPERATION
AND UP-KEEP, AND LOW
YEARLY DEPRECIATION MEAN A DISTINCT SAVING TO EVERY PURCHASER

THE NEW FORD is a splendid car to own and drive because of its attractive lines and colors, safety, comfort, speed, reliability and long life.

There are, in addition, three other features of importance to every far-seeing automobile owner . . . low first cost, low cost of operation and up-keep, and low yearly depreciation. During the life of the car, the day-by-day economy of owning a Ford will amount to considerably more than the saving on the first cost. You save when you buy the Ford and you save every mile you drive.

Evidence of the economy of the new Ford is shown in its selection by large industrial companies which keep careful cost records. Many of these operate fleets of fifty, one hundred and two hundred Ford cars and trucks. One company has eight thousand.

Police departments of large cities are also using a large number of Fords. In their ceaseless vigil, these cars are driven virtually twenty-four hours a day.

A fleet of 42 Model A Fords in Louisville (Kentucky) covered a total of 2,620,800 miles in twelve months, or the equivalent of 109 times around the world. Five new Fords on police duty in Niagara Falls (New York) have been driven more than 100,000 miles each. In Miami (Florida) a police Ford has gone 120,000 miles.

The average for the eighteen Fords in Omaha (Nebraska) is 35,000 miles per car for two years of police service. The superintendent of automotive equipment says repairs for the fleet have been "very low."

The police departments of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Detroit, San Francisco and other large cities use hundreds of Ford cars and trucks. In New York, the total exceeds 450.

The reasons for the good performance and economy of the new Ford are simplicity of design, high quality of materials and care in manufacturing and assembling. Many vital parts are made to limits of one one-thousandth of an inch. Some to three ten-thousandths of an inch. Throughout, it is an outstanding example of craftsmanship in volume production.

The more you see of the new Ford—the more you talk to Ford owners and experienced mechanics—the more certain you become of this fact. . . . It brings you everything you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price. Ask the nearest Ford dealer for a demonstration.

Note These Low Prices

There is a Ford car for every need and purpose at an unusually low price. Appointments and upholstery are in keeping with its mechanical excellence. You may choose from a variety of body colors.

TELLS OF ORIGIN OF BOYCOTT SUIT BY U. S. BUREAU

Witness Asserts C. E. Miles, Now Conducting East Side Hearing, Arranged It at Meeting in Hotel.

DEFENSE TRIES TO SHOW FAVORITISM

Charges Agricultural Department Is Trying to Smash Old Line Dealers to Favor "Pets."

A Government witness, in the hearing of 47 East Side livestock dealers charged with boycotting, was made by the defense today to tell how the proceeding originated. The hearing, now in its tenth day, was transferred from the East St. Louis Federal building to Almad Temple, because the Federal building was overcrowded with bootleggers and others attending Federal Court.

Wallace Potts, East St. Louis manager of the National Order Buying Co., who began his testimony Friday, was cross-examined today by W. M. Borders Jr., for the defense.

In reply to questions, Potts related that last Sept. 26 the St. Louis Livestock Exchange filed a complaint against the National Order Buying Co. and the St. Louis Producers Livestock Commission Co., with the Secretary of Agriculture. Within a week after this, about Oct. 1, the witness said, the officers of the two companies complained against met at the Robert E. Lee Hotel in St. Louis with C. E. Miles of the Department of Agriculture legal staff, and decided on the present prosecution. Miles is acting as Government representative in the hearing.

At the hotel conference, Potts said, Miles instructed the officers of the two companies to make a record of any refusal of the old-line companies to deal with them. He told them also how to prepare evidence for presentation in such a hearing as that now being held. Attorney Borders tried to show, in cross-examining Potts, that he abandoned his own hog-buying business and went into the employ of the National Order Buying Co. at a lower salary than he had been making, because it was understood that the St. Louis Producers Livestock Commission Co. and its affiliated concern, the National Order Buying Co., were going to obtain a monopoly of the business in the East Side market. These concerns, the defense charges, are the "pets" of the Department of Agriculture, which, they charge, is trying to put the old-line concerns out of business and give a monopoly to favored co-operatives. Potts would not make the full line of admissions desired by Borders. He said his present salary, $10,000 a year, was less than he had been making as a member of the firm of Potts, Walker & Watkins, but that the difference was not more than $10,000, as his share of the firm's profits in its last year had been about $11,000.

His former partners, Murray Watkins and Russell Walker, who went to the National Order Buying Co. for salaries smaller than that of Potts, and who have gone back into business for themselves, will be called, in the hope that they will go farther in their testimony than Potts did.

RIVER GROUP TO ORGANIZE FOREIGN TRADE COMMITTEE

Mississippi Valley Association Also to Foster Use of U. S. Ships by Americans.

A Valley-wide campaign to develop export trade and adequate Merchant Marine operating from Gulf ports will be launched in organization of a foreign trade committee by the Mississippi Valley Association in convention here next Monday and Tuesday, Lachlan Macleay, secretary, announced today.

The association, Macleay said, also will concentrate on an effort to foster use of American ships by American shippers who spend $140,000,000 a year on foreign marine service. Dr. W. F. Gephardt, vice president of the First National Bank and head of the Chamber of Commerce Foreign Trade Bureau, will be chairman of the committee.

PILOT HAZLIP HURT SLIGHTLY IN CRASH

$18,000 Plane in Which He Recently Won Chicago Race Is Demolished.

James Hazlip, pilot for the Shell Oil Co., suffered a broken nose and cuts of the face yesterday afternoon when the engine of his speed plane failed as he was taking off at Lambert-St. Louis Field and crashed into a drainage ditch. The ship, a low-wing monoplane costing $18,000, and having a top speed of 235 miles an hour, was demolished.

Hazlip was taking off at 1:45 o'clock and had gained an altitude of 400 feet over the southwest section of the airport when the engine stopped. Rather than risk turning back toward the field, usually a fatal maneuver with a fast ship and a dead engine, Hazlip slipped the plane toward the ground. The ship struck on a wing and bounded into the ditch.

As the crowd of several hundred spectators ran toward the scene, Hazlip, bleeding from the nose and cuts of the face, crawled from the wreckage and walked unassisted to an automobile. He was taken to Barnes Hospital, where an X-ray examination disclosed the fracture. At the hospital today Hazlip attributed the accident to a stoppage in the gasoline line. The plane is the same in which he won a speed contest at the recent national air races at Chicago.

Hazlip, who is the husband of Mae Hazlip, noted flyer, expects to leave the hospital today for his home, 4651 Moraine avenue. He was taking off to fly to Park Airport, on the East Side, to participate in an air show for the benefit of the East St. Louis Community Fund. A large crowd witnessed the exhibition and received the news of Hazlip's accident. The program included formation flights, races and two parachute jumps by Jack Merrell. Profits from sight-seeing flights were turned over to the fund.

SHARP DECLINE IN BUILDING IN 45 ILLINOIS CITIES

Much of Decrease of 66.4 Per Cent From October, 1929, Confined to Chicago, Report Shows.

By the Associated Press.
 CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Sharp decrease in building activity in 45 Illinois cities in October is reported by the Illinois Department of Labor.

The total estimated cost of new structures for which permits were obtained last month—$10,327,535—was said by the department to represent a drop of 39.4 per cent from the September figure and of 66.4 per cent from the figure for October, 1929.

However, the department noted, that part of the drop was a "natural reaction from the abnormal percentage increase of 27.7 reported last month." Total permits were somewhat larger, 2192 compared with 2143 for September.

Much of the decrease was confined to Chicago, 21, suburban reporting cities showing an up-curve of 18.4 per cent. Cities outside the metropolitan area recorded a decline of 10.0 per cent. Aurora and Centralia were the only two with a figure higher than that for October, 1929.

PARENTS WAITING TO FLY, SEE SONS KILLED IN CRASH

Sweetheart of Young Pennsylvania Pilot's Brother Also Killed; Plane Destroyed by Flames.

By the Associated Press.
 PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 17.—A father and mother, awaiting their turn to fly with their son, yesterday saw his plane swoop crazily, clip the top of a tree and crash to earth in flames. The boy died today of his injuries; his brother's body was found in the wreckage and the brother's sweetheart died before rescuers could reach her.

Casper McCune, 24 years old, a pilot for just three weeks, shot his plane into the air at an angle to the wind above the Greensburg airport; he failed to gain altitude and plunged.

In the twisted, burned machine rescuers found the body of the pilot's brother, Edward McCune, 26. Spectators heard the girl scream as the plane crashed, but she was dead when they reached her.

The aviator, who rolled clear of the wreck, his clothes aflame, was restrained with difficulty from plunging into the burning wreckage.

BLACK TOM EXPLOSION LAID TO ACTIVITY OF MOSQUITOES

Detective Says Watchmen Sparked Smudge Fire, Which Spread, Setting Off Shells.

By the Associated Press.
 NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—New Jersey mosquitoes and not sabotage have been blamed for the $22,000,000 Black Tom explosion in July, 1916, by Ervin J. Smith, officer of a private detective agency who investigated the explosion immediately after it occurred on behalf of insurance companies.

"The watchmen guarding the huge supply of war materials at the Jersey Arsenal were bothered by mosquitoes," said Smith. "They set a smudge fire to drive them off. Sparks from the fire ignited explosives under a box car loaded with small shells. The shells exploded and set fire to other cars. Finally a car loaded with black powder in the center of the yards exploded. After that everything went up. That is the real story of what happened."

The Mixed Claims Commission recently held Germany not to blame for the disaster.

SIX MORE BANKS CLOSE AS RESULT OF QUINCY CRASH

Four in Missouri, Two in Illinois—Total of 11 Suspensions in District in Two Weeks.

By the Associated Press. QUINCY, Ill., Nov. 17.—The bank situation in Quincy approached normalcy today but six depositories in nearby smaller communities failed to open, making a total of 11 banks in this vicinity that have been closed in the last two weeks.

Four of the banks closed today were in Missouri and, like the other two in Illinois, their failure was attributed either directly or indirectly to the closing of the larger Quincy banks with which they did business.

The banks which failed to open today were the Farmers' and Merchants' of La Grange, Mo.; the Rutledge Exchange of Rutledge, Mo.; the Downing State Bank of Downing, Mo.; the Bartlett & Wallace State of Clayton, Ill.; the Timewell State of Timewell, Ill., and the La Belle Savings Bank at La Belle, Mo.

Other Banks Closed. These six are added to the Quincy Ricker National of Quincy and its correspondent Green City (Mo.) Bank, which failed more than a week ago, and to the three whose doors were closed last Saturday: The State Savings Loan & Trust Co. of Quincy, the South Side State Savings Bank of Quincy and the State Bank at Rayon, Ill.

Meanwhile confidence apparently was returning in Quincy and the five remaining banks reported today's deposits far outbalanced the withdrawals. Pastors in nearly all of the churches in Quincy yesterday urged their congregations not to lose faith in the banks.

The Bartlett & Wallace Bank had capital stock of $50,000 and deposits of $500,000, while the Timewell Bank had capital stock of $25,000 and deposits of $150,000.

To protect other banks of the city, shipments of several hundred thousand dollars were brought by airplane from St. Louis, under direction of H. Palmer McElroy, vice president of the First National Bank of St. Louis, who assisted throughout Saturday in giving assurance to depositors. Other shipments were received from Chicago. The banks operating at present are the Illinois State Bank, the Mercantile Trust & Savings Bank, the Broadway State Savings Bank, the Broadway Bank and the State Street Bank & Trust Co.

Business Men in Conference. A committee of leading merchants and manufacturers met Saturday afternoon for several hours and discussed methods of relieving the tension.

The failure of the two large banks, officers said, followed a steady withdrawal of deposits when money was most needed. In the case of the Quincy Ricker National Bank, it is said that some of its difficulties probably can be traced to liabilities of the old Quincy Ricker Bank, which were carried by the new depository when the Quincy Ricker Bank was merged with the Quincy National Bank seven years ago.

Shrinkage of farm values in the territory surrounding Quincy is reported to have contributed to the decline of the State Savings Loan & Trust Co. J. W. Gardner, president of the bank, said this shrinkage at from 40 to 60 per cent. When Lorenzo and C. H. Bull organized the bank before the Civil War, it was founded on the farm loan business in this part of the Mississippi Valley. Farm loans are said to constitute a large portion of the bank's assets but they cannot be turned readily into cash and therefore do not form liquid assets of the institution.

Deposits Tied Up. The closed Quincy banks contained about $10,500,000 of the total of $22,000,000 of deposits in the city. The State Savings Loan & Trust Co. had a capital stock of $1,000,000; the South Side State Savings Bank, $50,000, and the Payson State Savings Bank, $25,000. The Quincy Ricker National Bank had a capital stock of $500,000. The total deposits will amount to $11,000,000, officers of the Quincy Ricker National and State Savings Banks said today.

Despite the excitement incidental to the closing of the banks there were no disastrous runs. The other banks invoked the rule requiring 60 days' notice for the withdrawal of time deposits. Those who wished to withdraw money from savings accounts were accommodated on amounts varying from $10 to $25. There were comparatively few notices of withdrawal in 60 days placed on file.

The Quincy Ricker National Bank has been placed in the hands of a receiver who, with a large staff, is striving to adjust the affairs as rapidly as possible. A State bank examiner from the office of the State Auditor in charge of the affairs of the State Savings Loan & Trust Co. and its branches.

OPEN VERDICT OF POISONING IN DEATH OF TWO MEN IN AUTO

Dr. Gradwohl Reports Finding in Bodies Drug Resembling That Which One Victim Carried.

An open verdict of death by poison will be recorded by the coroner in the cases of Robert L. O'Connor and Homer Arens, who died without making a statement shortly after they were found in an automobile parked near O'Connor's home at 4037 Blaine avenue, last Wednesday night.

A report by Dr. R. B. Gradwohl, after an examination of the viscera, recorded the presence of a poison which resembles a white substance found in O'Connor's pockets.

O'Connor, a salesman, 32 years old, and Arens, 27, who lived at 2800 Sienandoah avenue, and had formerly been in the garage business, were close friends. The salesman's mother, Mrs. Anna O'Connor, with whom he lived, and Arens' wife discredited a police theory that the men had agreed to commit suicide.

ANTI-FASCIST FLYER ON TRIAL IN SWITZERLAND

Bassanesi, Who Crashed After "Bombing" Cities With Leaflets—Two Co-Defendants.

LUGANO, Switzerland, Nov. 17.—The trial of the young Italian anti-Fascist aviator Bassanesi, who "bombed" Milan and other northern Italian cities with "Liberty and Justice" pamphlets and later crashed against St. Gotthard Pass while attempting to return to France, began here today. The charge filed against him by the Swiss Federal Office in its effort to avoid political aspects of the case, which might endanger the friendly relations between this country and Italy, alleges violation of the Swiss aerial navigation laws. A brilliant array of lawyers promises to make the trial eclipse the recent process at Brussels against the young Italian De Rosa, who fired at the Italian Crown Prince Umberto when he went to the Belgian capital to visit Princess Marie Jose, now his wife, or the recent trial at Paris of anti-Fascists accused of plotting against Foreign Minister Dino Grandi. Moro Giarferi, noted Corsican barrister, the highest-priced lawyer in France, is contributing his services free, while former Italian Foreign Minister Count Sforza and Filippo Turati are among the character witnesses for the defense.

With a French airman named Brabant, Bassanesi brought his plane from Le Bourget airdrome, in the outskirts of Paris, to Geneva and thence to Bellinzona. Later he loaded his craft with leaflets at Lodrino, near the frontier. He flew over Milan with a companion and then back to Lodrino, where his colleague disappeared. The identity of the latter has never been definitely determined. It was after taking off from Lodrino for France that Bassanesi ran into the storm that forced him down.

The Swiss authorities have made two other men, Tarchiani and Roselli, co-defendants with Bassanesi. Both are coming here voluntarily from France to face their accusers and the probability of prison sentences. Roselli will be remembered as the anti-Fascist who assisted the aged Turati's sensational escape to Corsica in a motorboat. Apprehended while returning to Italy, he was exiled to the island of Liepardi, Mussolini's "Devil's Island" in the Adriatic, from which he escaped with Nitti and Luzzu.

Since Tarchiani and Roselli are charged as accomplices—and since the loading of leaflets into an airplane cannot be construed as a violation of the civil flying code—political aspects of the case are believed to be unavoidable at the trial.

The Federal penal tribunal, before which the case will be heard, is composed of five judges. The outcome of the trial is being followed closely by the Swiss and Italian Foreign Offices.

WORK OF SELECTING SCORFINA KIDNAPING JURY RESUMED

Trial at Belleville Enters Second Week, With Only 8 of Panel Chosen.

The Scorfina kidnaping trial entered its second week before Circuit Judge Bernreuter at Belleville today with counsel still working at the task of selecting a jury.

In five days last week only eight men were chosen of the 12 who will try five Sicilian gangsters. The defendants, charged with the capital offense of kidnaping for ransom, are Frank Agrusa, Vito Impastato, Baptista Bommarito, Sora Mantia and Mike Lombardo.

Sam Scorfina, who charges the five kidnaped him in East St. Louis on July 12, is still under heavy police guard at his home at 897 Carr street and will not be taken to Belleville until court and jury are ready for his testimony.

During the five sessions of last week, 154 prospective jurors were examined. The State challenged 55 and the defense 23. Fifty-seven were dismissed for prejudice or other cause, one was held over for further questioning today, and eight were finally chosen.

The eight already selected spent the week-end in charge of deputies and whittled away most of yesterday at pinocchio. They were taken for a walk yesterday morning, but remained indoors the rest of the day.

LINDBERGH ORDERS NEW WING LARGER MOTOR FOR HIS PLANE

Improvements Expected to Increase Top Speed to 225 Miles an Hour.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 17.—Carl Squier, general manager of the Lockheed Aircraft Co. here, said today Col. Charles A. Lindbergh would come to Los Angeles soon to have his low-wing monoplane fitted with a new type of wing, a larger motor and a disappearing landing gear.

The improvement, Squier said, will increase the speed of Lindbergh's plane about 50 miles an hour, making its top speed 225 miles an hour.

Squier said he spoke to Lindbergh by telephone to Princeton, N. J., and that the flyer said he would arrive within three weeks.

Secret development and successful testing of the new wing—constructed on Lindbergh's orders—have been completed at Burbank, Cal., after nine months' work. No description of the wing was given out, except that it will permit the landing wheels to be folded into the wing. A 605-horsepower motor will replace the present 425-horsepower engine, it is understood.

Squier said Lindbergh told him, "Our desire to increase the speed of our airplane does not mean that we are going out after any transcontinental or other long distance speed records."

EPISCOPAL CHURCH UNFROCKS DR. JAMES EMPRINGHAM

Ouster of Former New York Pastor and Dry Leader Officially Announced by Bishop Manning.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The unfrocking of the Rev. Dr. James Empringham, Protestant Episcopal minister, one-time Anti-Saloon League leader and superintendent for years of the Church Temperance Society, was announced yesterday by Bishop William T. Manning.

Dr. Empringham renounced his ministry in August, 1929, in a fiery open letter which denounced the Bishop's Christianity as a "preposterous lie" and a "curse to humanity, productive of untold misery and immorality." He was deposed some time ago, Dr. Manning said, but the act had never become generally known.

Red Apple Salad.
Select 12 firm red apples as nearly perfect in shape as you can find them. Cut a slice from the top of each and, with a spoon, remove the pulp, leaving a rib about one-eighth inch thick. Drop the apple cups into a large bowl of cold water to which has been added two tablespoons lemon juice. This keeps them from discoloring.
Cut the apple pulp in small dice, discarding the seeds and core, and mix at once with one cup grapefruit pulp, either fresh or canned, one cup diced pineapple, one cup pitted dates in narrow strips, and one cup orange pulp. Chill, pack back in the apple cups and put a large spoonful of cream mayonnaise on top of each. Garnish with stuffed dates and a few small lettuce leaves.

EXERCISE OF COMMON SENSE IN EATING

Danger of Under Nourishment
Through Not Eating
Enough Is Real.

It has been said that the possession of common sense is a necessary attribute to comfortable living, but if it is true, there are not many people who enjoy comfortable living.

Take, for instance, the matter of eating. When you come right down to it, there are few living creatures that use so little common sense about eating as do human beings. They eat too much, or they eat too little; they are given to any number of dieting fads; they deliberately eat foods that they know will disagree with them, and then complain about it; they bolt food
in a mad rush to get somewhere else and then wonder why they should have to suffer indigestion.

Food Must Be Digested.
The proper digestion of food depends on the proper functioning of the digestive apparatus. If this is tired from overwork or from the action of fatigue poisons set up from physical overwork, it cannot do its work as it should. Yet we send down three meals a day for it to take care of regardless of this fact. Animals know enough to refrain from eating when they are tired or excited, but the intelligent human animal forces himself to eat even when he is not hungry.

Not Eating Enough.
This, however, brings up another factor. It is entirely possible to form the habit of not eating enough. Since the dieting fad struck the country, many people, especially young girls, have dieted
so much that it has become a difficult thing for them to eat enough to supply their nutritional requirements. As a result, malnutrition and the diseases that follow in its wake are claiming an appallingly larger number of victims.

It is not only those who have followed one or another of the dieting fads that are feeling the effects of undernourishment. Anxious mothers write in asking how to persuade their children that a certain amount of food is a vital necessity. Sometimes these same mothers are somewhat to blame for the condition by having made food too important a subject of conversation while these children were young.

Often there is a lack of appetite
that modern living conditions foster. There is a rush to get off to school or business in the morning and no time for an adequate breakfast; at noon shopping or a rush or business or the fear of adding a few pounds of avoidable necessitate a hurried lunch, and at night
fatigue makes it impossible to eat
a good dinner.

As a result we have a condition of irritability, nervousness, lowered resistance and eventually loss of weight—factors that lead in time to the inevitable "nervous breakdown."

Girls who are in business, and who are ambitious to carve out careers for themselves should realize the importance of an adequate amount of food. Good health and efficiency depend on it, and employers are quick to note the results that come from lack of it.

There are, of course, other things to consider besides knowing how much to eat. There is the question of what to eat, for instance. It is easy to get into a rut with food and the results are apt to be just as disastrous as a rut in any other phase of living. Good nutrition calls for reasonable amounts of food that will meet the needs of the body. All kinds of wholesome foods should be eaten,
and one of the first good food habits a child or a growing up should be a liking for a wide variety of foods. Finicky tastes and fussy appetites are both to be avoided.

People should school themselves
never to eat when over-tired or excited, or when seriously upset by worry. Never deliberately or consciously overeat or eat foods that they knew will not agree with them, even though they may like them. Eat a wide variety of foods and eat enough and avoid food fads and promiscuous dieting as they would the plague.

These are simple rules and easily learned.

THIS GREEN TOMATO PIE IS A GREAT DELICACY

The Fresh Vegetable Season, in This Climate, Has About Reached an End.

Green tomatoes are plentiful and clever housewives will put green tomato pie in their family menus
before the supply is exhausted.

A delicate green tomato pie is made according to this recipe:

Green Tomato Pie.
Make crust as usual and after the pie plate has been lined with dough, sprinkle it with a mixture of one-half tablespoon of flour and a half tablespoon of sugar to help prevent a soaked crust.

Then arrange about three cups sliced green tomato (or plenty to make the pie rounding) in the lower crust. Mix one cup sugar with four tablespoons flour and a fourth teaspoon salt and sprinkle over the top and between the layers of the tomatoes. Dot over the top with three tablespoons butter and the juice and grated rind of one lemon.

Place top crust and start to bake in a hot oven of 400 degrees F. for 10 minutes, then reduce the oven to 350 degrees F. and finish baking.

SOME HEARTY SALADS FOR SUNDAY SUPPERS

Toasted Bread Crumbs.

To prepare crumbs to be used on top of scalloped dishes and for crumbing croquettes and cutlets, put left over pieces of dried stale bread with crusts in a flat pan and toast in a slow oven. Run through food chopper or roll until fine.

Chef Potatoes.

Cut cold boiled potatoes into cubes, season well with salt and pepper, dip in melted butter and then, lightly in flour. Arrange on a baking sheet or large, flat pan and bake 15 minutes in a hot oven. Serve very hot.

Savory Combinations for Informal Evening Entertaining or Bridge Luncheons.

The following salad recipes are suitable for Sunday night entertaining or for bridge suppers as they are hearty, rather unusual in their combinations, appetizing and not difficult to prepare—qualities that will endear them to most hostesses. Served with a hot beverage, coffee preferably, with rye bread, hot biscuits or rolls, and a dessert, they will add to the cook's reputation for good food.

Apple and Cheese Salad.
Mix equal parts of cream cheese and Roquefort cheese together to a smooth paste, adding a little cream if necessary. Core firm, tart, red apples and cut into rings one-third inch thick without peeling. Spread half the rings with the cheese mixture and put a plain and a cheese ring together. Arrange on shredded lettuce and put a date stuffed with chopped nuts in the hole in the center of each apple "sandwich." Pour French dressing made with lemon juice instead of vinegar over the apples and serve as soon as possible.

German Salad.
Dice crisp celery to make one and one-half cups. Remove the skin from three-fourths pound bologna and chop it coarsely or cut in small dice. Mix with the celery and then add one cup finely diced tart apples and one cup diced cold potatoes. Mix one teaspoon prepared mustard with one tablespoon vinegar and a dash of cayenne and stir into one-half cup mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing. Add to the salad and arrange on crisp lettuce. Garnish with curled celery and tiny pickled onions. Serve rye bread and cheese with this.

Egg and Anchovy Salad.
Slice six hard-boiled eggs and arrange in a circle on a bed of watercress or shredded lettuce. Fill the center of the ring with diced celery and shredded green peppers or pimientos, one and one-half cups celery and one-half cup shredded pepper mixed with French dressing.

Separate six or eight anchovies into shreds and sprinkle over the salad. Serve with well seasoned mayonnaise. Pass sweet and sour pickles with this, and serve with small hot rolls.

Herring Salad.
Soak two small salt herring in cold water over night. Drain, dry, remove skin and as many bones as possible, and cut the fish into small pieces. Mix with one cup diced beets, two cups fine diced cold potatoes, one cup chopped cold beef or veal, and one-quarter cup chopped dill pickle. Cut a small white onion into very thin rings and add to the salad. Mix one tablespoon prepared mustard with one-half teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, one tablespoon vinegar and three tablespoons salad oil. Stir this into one-quarter cup mayonnaise and add to the salad.

Mix well and pack in a mound on a platter on a bed of small lettuce leaves. Peel three hard-boiled eggs and chop the whites fine. Rub the yolks through a strainer and arrange in a line down the center of the mound of salad. Place the chopped egg whites around the edge and sprinkle all with chopped parsley.

Oyster Salad.

Sauté two dozen large oysters in their own juice, then cool and drain. Pour one-half cup well seasoned French dressing over them and set aside to chill. Mix two cups shredded cabbage with one cup fine diced celery and one-quarter cup chopped sweet pickle. Mix three tablespoons salad oil with one tablespoon vinegar, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon sugar, one tablespoon onion and one-quarter teaspoon celery seed. Add to the cabbage and mix well. Arrange the cabbage mixture on lettuce in individual mounds. Drain the oysters, dip each in mayonnaise and arrange six oysters on each portion. Small sweet pickles make a good garnish with strips of pimiento.

Homemade Doughnuts.

Cream two and one-half tablespoons shortening with one-half cup sugar, and then gradually add another one-half cup sugar, mixing it in well. Next beat in two eggs and when the mixture is a smooth cream, add one cup milk. Sift three cups flour with one-half teaspoon salt, four teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one-quarter teaspoon nutmeg and one teaspoon grated orange rind. Stir into the liquid mixture and then gradually add another cup of flour, or enough to make a dough that can just be handled—or in other words a soft dough. Chill, which will stiffen it, and then turn half of the dough at a time out on a floured board and roll to one-half inch thickness. Shape with a doughnut cutter and fry in deep fat heated to 350 degrees, or until it will brown a piece of bread in one minute. Fry to a delicate brown, drain on soft paper and sprinkle with powdered or confectioner's sugar before serving.

Prune Mousse for Dessert.
Use one cup chopped cooked prunes, one-half pint cream, one egg white and the juice of one-half a lemon. Whip the cream, add prunes, then beaten white eggs, and lastly the lemon juice. Put in freezing unit for one hour before serving.

NEXT SPEAKERSHIP JOB OF UNCERTAIN TENURE

Insurgents May Overthrow Either Republican or Democrat Who Holds Post.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. — Regardless of whether the Republicans or Democrats gain initial control of the next House of Representatives, the Speaker will be in constant peril of being overthrown.

Although it has never been done, the Speaker may be removed at any time by a majority of the members. In view of the close balance between the parties in the House at the Seventy-second Congress insurgent groups will be potential determining factors in the seating or unseating of the Speaker. Both Speaker Longworth and his Democratic rival—Representative Garner of Texas—might occupy the speakership at different times.

However, Longworth and Garner may have an opportunity to resort to the tactics used by their respective parties in 1910, when an insurgent group led by Norris of Nebraska, now Senator, began the so-called revolution against what they termed "Cannon czarism." It was then that the late Uncle Joe Cannon, serving as Speaker for the fourth term, gave the actual majority, consisting of Democrats and insurgent Republicans, an opportunity to oust him.

On Norris' resolution to have the Speaker removed from the Rules Committee a three-day contest was fought. Cannon sustained a motion by Dazell of Pennsylvania, the Republican leader, that the Norris resolution was not privileged. Norris appealed from the chair's decision to the House, was sustained and his resolution was adopted, 191 to 156, five voting present.

Speaker Cannon told the House he could either resign, necessitating a complete reorganization of the House and confessing failure, which he would not do, or entertain a motion to have the speakership vacated.

"The Speaker," Cannon said, "has always said that, under the Constitution, it is a question of the highest privilege for an actual majority of the House at any time to choose a new Speaker. The chair is now ready to entertain such a motion."

Albert Burleson, later Postmaster-General under President Wilson, then a member from Texas, offered a resolution to declare the speakership vacant and to order the election of a successor to Cannon.

Most of the insurgents reversed their previous position and the resolution failed of adoption, 197 to 155, with eight voting present.

Norris of Nebraska, who had led the fight for reorganization of the Rules Committee, and Longworth voted against the Burleson resolution, but Garner and the late Representative Lindbergh of Minnesota, father of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, voted for unseating the Speaker, as did the veteran Representative Cooper of Wisconsin, Republican.

Miss Barbara Fay, a 19-year-old sewing machine operator, shot herself in the breast yesterday at her home, 1804A Menard street. She was taken to City Hospital, where her condition is said to be serious.

There, she told police she shot herself because a young man with whom she had been on a party at Hollywood Beach, St. Louis County, the night before, persisted in his advances, ignoring her threat to shoot herself. Police arrested the man she named and two others for St. Louis County authorities.

To End Common Coughs, Mix This at Home

To end quickly those hard coughs due to colds, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any drug store, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the germs laden phlegm. Second, it soothes away the inflammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for incipient bronchial coughs and other severe coughs due to colds. Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

PINEX
Acts Quickly

Muscular-Rheumatic Aches and Pains

DRAW them out with a "counter-irritant." Distressing muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness—generally respond pleasantly to good old Musterole. Doctors call it a "counter-irritant," because it gets action and is not just a salve. Musterole helps bring soreness and pain to the surface, and thus gives natural relief. You can feel how its warming action penetrates and stimulates blood circulation. But do not stop with one application. Apply this soothing, cooling, healing ointment generously to the affected area once every hour for five hours. Used by millions for over 20 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses.

Keep Musterole handy; jar and tubes. To Mothers—Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

"Lazy" Said the Boss
"Acidity" Said the Doctor!

Charged with laziness—guilty simply of acidity. That's the situation with many men today. They realize that they are not themselves—they're conscious of a vague, tired feeling that's always with them—they know they have to pull themselves together for each and every task—but they can't tell what's the trouble. They're branded as lazy and ambitious, when the real truth is that they're sick men—victims of acidity.

Acidity, due to our unnatural eating habits, irregular hours and other violations of Nature's laws, causes acid indigestion, with gas, sourness and burning. Also, it sets up fermentation and putrefaction in the intestinal tract, which forms poisons that sap our strength and vitality, irritate our nerves, spoil our sleep and make us weak, listless and chronically tired.

To correct acidity a remarkable new product has been developed by a 100-year-old pharmaceutical house in Germany. It comes in the form of small white tablets called Magnesia Oxids, which do not have to be chewed but may be swallowed whole.

Magnesia Oxids upon contact with the acid in the stomach, generate nascent, or active oxygen. Now, active oxygen, as any doctor will tell you, when generated within the digestive tract, does just the things required for acidity. It stimulates the secretion of the alkaline mucus. It checks the putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal. It stimulates the activities of the intestinal walls and aids the natural movement of the bowels. All three effects are necessary to the true relief of acidity and Magnesia Oxids supply them in a perfectly natural manner.

Make This Acidity Test
See for yourself how much acid has to do with your sleeplessness, your run-down condition and that persistent feeling of tiredness. Make this acidity test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxids from Walgreens Drug Stores or any other good drug store. Take two after each meal. Note the pick-up in your pep and vigor. Mark the new peace of your stomach and nerves. If, after taking contents of one bottle, you don't feel decidedly better, return the bottle and the druggist will promptly and cheerfully refund your money.

FASCISTS GAIN HEAVILY IN GERMAN CITY POLLS

Vote in Danzig Rises From 2130 Three Years Ago to 34,000.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—The Fascist party made phenomenal gains in the free city of Danzig and cities in Eastern Prussia where municipal elections were held over the week end.

The Fascists polled 34,000 votes against 2130 in 1927 at Danzig. The Communists there jumped 100 per cent above their former figure. The social Democrats, still the leading party, dropped from 61,779 to 54,000 votes.

In Baden the Fascists increased their Municipal Council mandates from nothing to 18 in Karlsruhe, and in Kehl from nothing to 21. They became the leading party in both cities, the social Democrats running second.

Results were similar, if not so emphatic in Mecklenburg, where the Fascists won eight City Council seats in Neubrandenburg. They had none previously. The Social Democrats lost four of their eight and the Communists rose from one to four. At Rostock the Fascists jumped from three to 15. Two persons were seriously injured in election disorders at Rostock.

Fascist campaigners are looking now toward Bremen, where Municipal elections will be held Nov. 20. The Fascists got the highest number of votes in the Karlsruhe municipal election with 18,889. The Socialists obtained 12,719 and the Centre 11,020.

Municipal elections were held throughout Baden. Adolf Hitler, Fascist chieftain, personally led his cohorts, and while the polling percentage did not approach that of the Reichstag election Oct. 14 the Fascists obtained seats on virtually every communal council in Baden.

DISCUSSES LIBERALISM AND INDIVIDUALISM

The Rev. Joseph Huselein in Radio Lecture on Labor Encyclopedia of Pope Leo XIII.

Origin and significance of the economic philosophies of liberalism and individualism were described by the Rev. Joseph Huselein, dean of the St. Louis University School of Sociology, in one of a series of radio lectures on the labor encyclopedia of Pope Leo XIII, over the university's radio station yesterday. Pope Leo combated the extremes of "godless liberalism" and "radical socialism" to establish a Christian social ideal. Father Huselein said, asserting that certain economic evils were not inevitable, as stated by the economists of that day, including Adam Smith and Stuart Mill.

Father Huselein outlined the practical application of nineteenth century liberalism, and said it gave everyone full freedom for unlimited self-aggrandizement, no matter at whose cost, subject only to the legal observation of contracts. Liberalism came to be known as individualism, he explained, because it held labor legislation counter to nature. Individual contracts, he said, became the rule, resulting finally in the "iron law of wages," part of a system that exploited the worker.

No Christian laborer or employer may subscribe to such a doctrine, he concluded.

PIPE LINE ESTABLISHINGHEADQUARTERS AT MEXICO

Carloads of Material Arrive Daily to Be Trucked Out in Rushing of Work.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. MEXICO, Mo., Nov. 17.—Headquarters for construction activities of the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line Co. across this section of Missouri are being established here.

Several carloads of the 22-inch pipe to be used in the building of the natural gas line from the Texas and Oklahoma fields to points in Kansas, Missouri, Illinois and Indiana, are arriving daily and being distributed east and west of here by trucks.

Construction work is in progress at several Missouri points and is being rushed to complete the line before winter. The line enters the State in Cass County, near Harrisonville, south of Kansas City, and traverses Johnson, Pettis and Cooper counties, crossing the Missouri River near Booneville.

Going through Howard, Boone, Audrain, Falls and Pike counties, the pipe line crosses the Champ Clark bridge at Louisiana, passing into Illinois over the Mississippi River at that point.

Construction crews working westward from Louisiana, and eastward from Booneville, will meet near Mexico within a few weeks. Several hundred men are employed.

In this section, the Missouri Power and Light Co. has contracts with the Missouri-Kansas company to purchase the natural gas to supply the co. municipalities it serves. Several towns and cities have already granted franchises to the Missouri power company. Other towns have the franchises under consideration.

MRS. CLIFFORD C. RENS GETS CUSTODY OF TWO CHILDREN

Former Husband, Traffic Policeman Elmer C. King, Ordered to Pay $25 a Month.

Custody of two children of Mrs. Sophia Rens, wife of State Representative Clifford C. Rens, and her former husband, Elmer C. King, a traffic policeman, was awarded to Mrs. Rens by Circuit Judge Hamilton today in a ruling which requires King to pay $25 a month for the support of the children.

When the Kings were divorced several years ago custody of the children was given to their maternal grandmother, Mrs. Martha Hartman, 4767 Milleniz avenue. Both parents remarried. At a recent hearing, Mrs. Rens asked that the children and a $40-a-month allowance be transferred to her on the ground that her mother's health was failing. Opposing her motion, King also asked custody of the children.

Mrs. Rens lives at 3755 Keokuk street; King at 5707 Gano avenue.

With Railroads.

505,000 PROVIDED
IN TWO ISSUES

Balance of $1,532,606 Still Available — $2,417,074 Expended on Eleemosy-nary Improvements.

Modern viaducts to carry important streets over or under dangerous railroad crossings have been built in the last decade with the share of the expense paid by bond issues voted in 1920 and 1922. Two other improvements under way. An ambitious program has been laid out to dispose of the majority of the most heavily traveled crossings elsewhere, but realization is slow because of long drawn out negotiations with the railroads.

The people provided $905,000 for the purpose by a bond issue in 1920 and $1,600,000 more as one of the items in the big 1923 issue,
a total of $2,505,000. Thus far $972-600 has been spent, leaving a balance available of $1,532,606. The expenditures have been $607-742 from the 1920 item and $364,858 from the 1923 issue, omitting advances to railroads which later were refunded.

Since the city would like to have a principle established that about one-third is its proper proportion of the cost of a grade crossing elimination, about $4,500,000 worth construction is in prospect if this could be upheld. Estimated cost of the elaborate Lindell-Union viaduct over the Wabash Railway, the best one going up now, is $450-000, a fact giving some idea of the amount to which the fund may be applied.

Expenditures Under 1920 Bonds.
Expenditures for city shares of shaded improvements under the 1920 bonds have been: Fourteenth street bridge over the Mill Creek River, $296,026.18; underpass of Goodfellow avenue at Terminal Railroad, south of Natural Avenue, $51,242.53; Delmar viaduct at Wabash Railroad, $116,537.17; widening Nat-
l. Bridge avenue viaduct over Terminal Railroad near Clara avenue, $23,664.58; land purchased in viaduct at the Delmar viaduct along the Wabash to the southwest, $32.83 (some of this is expected to be sold at a profit now that work is done).

Under the 1923 item, expenditures for finished works were $73-44 for the Kingshighway viaduct over the Terminal Railroad in Pine Park and $239,000 for the several street bridge over the two Railway yards and River Park, beside the 400-foot outlet for the Lindell-Union job.
The city has appropriated $450,000 for the full cost of the latter, but it will be repaid for the shares of the Wabash and Rock Island railroads
at the State Public Service Commission divides the cost.

Eventually there will be a reverse of about $35,000 under the Arrival street work. For widening of the Frisco Railway the city has appropriated $58,312.50, and the road is undertaking construction of this $125,000 structure now.

Kingshighway Project.
President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service has announced that the Missouri Pacific Railroad and the city are in close agreement on plans for the viaduct to carry Kingshighway over that road near Lafayette avenue, subject to approval of the Public Service Commission.
The physical work may be started in about three months.
The related viaduct to carry an extension of Lafayette avenue over the tracks will be erected, and the street will be detoured over this work on the main unit. The whole job is estimated to cost $1,325,000.
L. R. Bowen, chief engineer of roads and buildings for the city,
states the following grade crossing eliminations the city hopes to have made with bond money for its share, and nearly all of which have been taken up in a preliminary way with the railroads:

Wabash Railway — At Sarah
West, Boyle, Newstead, Taylor, Delaware avenue, Waterman boulevard, Hamilton avenue, Olive street and Maple avenue.

Missouri Pacific Railroad—At Southwest avenue, the proposed extension of McCausland avenue and by prolonged elevation of the road from Morganford road to the point east of Broadway.

Terminal Railroad—At the proposed extension of Kingshighway between Kingshighway and Euclid avenue.

Germany Faces Its Serious Economic Plight With CourageExpenditures Exceeding a Billion Marks to Make More Jobs, While Hopes of the Country Turn to Revision of Treaties.By WILHELM MARX.
Former Chancellor of Germany.
(Copyright 1930.)BERLIN, Nov. 17.—The specter of domination of Germany by the National Socialists (Hitler's Fascist party) has been fairly well disipated. A great number of Reichstag seats won by that party came unexpectedly even for the party's own members. It is really too bad that the Government demanded
such a long recess of the Reich-stag's sessions for preparing its extensive program, which is composed of some 30 proposed laws.
If the National Socialist Deputies, who still are little acquainted with one another's line of thought and tendencies, were compelled to accomplish practical work, the nimbus of glory that surrounds them in the eyes of many voters would quickly disappear.But even as it is, the Reichstag proceedings heretofore have demonstrated even to the eyes of foreign observers that Bruening's Government possesses a safe majority. Indeed, the majority for the rejection of the opposition parties and the vote of lack of confidence in the Government, which was a condition precedent to receipt of urgently needed foreign credits was unexpectedly large — 82 and 83 votes respectively.
The proceedings of the Committee on Foreign Affairs also met in respect the hopes of the opposition parties. Although the Government parties possess only a majority more than half of the members of this committee, the proposals
of this committee were nevertheless rejected. In their election campaign the National Socialists particular had triumphantly declared that the peace treaty would not be revised, that payments under the Young plan would be stopped and that Germany would be saved.Nothing of all this has come to pass. All resolutions calling for the nullification of the Young plan Versailles and the payments of tributes were rejected. In a plenary session of the Reichstag, the Government's position will be more strongly protected than was the case in committee meetings.
The conclusion of the Deputies who were not represented in committee meetings will vote for the Government.Attitude of the German People.
This vote in the committee of the Reichstag must, however, in no manner lead foreign observers to draw false conclusions to the effect that the German people have become reconciled to the treaty of Versailles or that they regard the payments under the Young plan as bearable and capable of being fulfilled. The German Government and the majority of the German people are now as before prepared to meet the obligations assumed under the Young plan in so far as this is possible.But they are united in feeling that a speedy revision of this agreement is urgently necessary. They are also united in the conviction that a revision of the treaty of Versailles must be brought about,
although only through a peaceful understanding; that it is necessary because the treaty represents a violation of right and leads to consequences that are disastrous to only the conquered peoples, but also for victorious nations. Voices are being raised in constantly increasing numbers and with steadily increasing emphasis in the most influential circles abroad declaring that such revision is necessary and unavoidable in the very near future.
Throughout the course of history,
justice advances with an unflinching step. It is to be hoped that her demands will not be recognized too late. The consequences for the whole world would then be unfor-seeable.The German people demand disarmament. They have a right to
it. This right is based for one thing on article eight of the Statute of the League of Nations, which acknowledges the basic principle that the maintenance of peace requires that all nations reduce their armaments to the extreme minimum. It is based also on part of the Treaty of Versailles, which unconditionally joins the general disarmament of all nations with the limitation of the German army. Count Bernstorff, who enjoys the complete confidence of all leading parties in Germany, will again present this demand with the greatest emphasis at the preparatory disarmament conference at Geneva. The resolution passed by all Government parties which calls on the Government to support this demand with the utmost emphasis was adopted in committee by a great majority.The second item in Germany's desire would also conduce—if considered—to the welfare of all nations, is for a speedy reconsideration of obligations under the Young Plan. The conviction is steadily gaining ground that the deplorable economic crisis now prevailing in almost all civilized countries of the world is a result of the unhappy World War and ofthe treaties that followed it. Ever more decisively voices are being raised in non-German lands to declare that a conference of experts must as soon as possible make the necessary investigations which would precede action. The German Government and parties behind it are thoroughly in accord with this view. They are, however, agreed that the Government is taking a proper course when it is devoted first of all to putting the German financial situation in order.

The Budget Is Balanced.

It must not be possible for anybody to reproach the German people with the fact that they have not as a first step cleared up their own financial situation and in particular balanced the national budget. The Government's plans demand heavy sacrifices from all classes of people. These involve a reduction of expenses generally, including those for cultural, hygienic and educational requirements, a reduction of salaries such as have already been voluntarily put into effect by President von Hindenburg and his Ministers and an imposition upon all classes of people of tax burdens to the extreme bearable limit. All these things are provided for by the emergency decrees of July 26, already in effect,
and by the proposed measures that will be laid before the Reichstag.One specter that has arisen not only in Germany, but in most of other countries—the terrible crisis of unemployment—is most obviously the result of war and is a striking proof that the attempts to heal
national wounds have been hampered by grave mistakes. There are close to 4,000,000 unemployed in Germany. But what shall one say to the fact that even England with all its industries had at the end of August over 1,500,000 unemployed
in addition to over 600,000 short-time workers?At the end of August 25 per cent of all persons in gainful pursuits were unemployed in the United States, according to the figures of the Department of Labor. In August of the preceding year the figure was but nine per cent. In Canada the number of unemployed
rose from about 600 in July, 1929, to over 18,000 in July, 1930. The International Labor Bureau estimates the number of unemployed
throughout the world at 15,000, 000. This is a shocking figure,
and it is to be hoped that the terrible import is clearly understood everywhere.There has been in effect in Germany since 1927 an unemployment insurance act under which all persons without employment receive specified sum after unemployment has lasted 26 weeks. Funds are expected to be secured by contributions from employers and employees
but these are not sufficient with the present vast increase of unemployment. It is now generally acknowledged that the burden must be carried by the whole people.To Provide More Jobs.
Hence the Reichstag continuing contributions to support those out of work. These will require not less than one billion marks under the coming budget. It goes without saying that any sound policy must be directed not so much toward healing existing wounds as in doing away with their causes.
Hence the National Government has appropriated means for providing employment on public works,
the Federal Postoffice Department will expend three hundred million
marks and the German railroad companies two hundred and fifty millions for such ends—building, laying of cables, constructing further railroad lines, etc. Large sums are to be provided for extensive settlements on land, for agricultural aid, for dykes, dams, etc.; and especially for erecting dwellings for the less well-to-do part of the population.All this means tremendous burdens for the Reich. In connection therewith it must not be forgotten that as a result of the provisions of unemployment insurance which grants help only for 13 weeks altogether, the requirements on municipalities for welfare work are increased vastly. Those unemployed who receive no further sums from this insurance must be taken care of by the welfare departments of cities. The result must obviously be a tremendous increase of municipal burdens and a number of cities have already become bankrupt.From business circles and economists there have come various proposals for reducing unemployment, which deserve to be carefully considered. One proposal calls for a temporary cessation of the speeding up process in business and industry. The Prussian Government, in agreement with the different national government parties, proposes a general shortening of the working day.But strong misgivings against this are voiced from other quarters. Such shortening of the hours of labor, it is declared, could be regarded as beneficial only in such cases where a danger in increaseU. S. NOT TO BLAME FOR HIGH

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Sir Josiah

terview with the Daily Mail today,
said the high price of gold to which the present world wide industrial crisis was attributed was not the fault of the United States.

owed large sums of money and not unnaturally does not like receiving depression, Sir Josiah said: "The European countries although it is difficult to apportion the blame.

The problem can be met only by resolute co-operation but there are

WARSAW, Poland, Nov. 17.— Marshal Pilsudski, fiery Polish leader, emerged victorious from yesterday's parliamentary elections,
his supporters capturing 247 out of 444 seats.
He thus is in control of the House in which he commanded only 118 votes on dissolution last August.Large though his gains were,
however, they did not give him the hoped for two-thirds majority of 296 needed for purposes of amending the constitution. Government circles were confident that there will be enough supporters in the other camps to make up the needed votes.On matters requiring more than an ordinary majority, it was said
semi-officially, there will undoubtedly be enough adherents in the other parties to insure constructive work.The official final results were given out this afternoon as follows:

Racial Minorities Suffer.
The worst sufferers in the elections were the racial minorities. At the dissolution of the Sejm they had 83 seats, namely 51 Ukrainians and white Russians, 13 Jews and 19 Germans. They now have only 35 among them.The opposition to Marshal Pilsudski also was greatly weakened.
This group previously was made up of 216 Deputies, of which 40 were National Democrats, 13 Christian Democrats, 152 of parties now united as Centro-Radical, and 11 scattered. These groups now total only 157, excluding five Communists.Sixty-one persons were injured in election disorders in Warsaw,
and disturbances were reported from many localities throughout the republic. Five of the casualties represented serious injuries, four by revolver shots. The disorders principally were scuffles among Communists, government adherents and Laborites, Zionists and Orthodox Jews.Saloons were closed, even for beer sales, but at Puzskow, which is the only Polish city to boast prohibition, a considerable supply of contraband liquor was smuggled in.
The upshot was a clash between two intoxicated groups of Pilsudski supporters. Shooting started with both sides shouting: "Long live Marshal Pilsudski!" Six persons were taken to hospitals
wounded.Warsaw went for the Government, returning eight Government seats to three National Democrats,

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—To the plans advanced for prohibition changes today was added a suggestion that the Volstead act be repealed, leaving enforcement of the eighteenth amendment to the states.This was proposed by Representative James M. Beck (Rep.), of Pennsylvania, who once was Solici-

said that while repeal of the eighteenth amendment was the ultimate objective any attempt to secure it now would meet such a defeat as to postpone "any practical relief

Yet he asserted, offering the recent election results as evidence,
any political party which attempted to sidestep prohibition as an issue
would be doomed to defeat.Although the President Law En-tend to recommend repeal of the plan such as that advanced by the changes to strengthen the existing system.Another development was a de-

TABLERS DOWNED
BY KAVANAUGHS,
WHILE MILLERS
TRIP HELLRUNGS

By Dent McSkimming

General improvement in the play of the weaker clubs resulted in two surprises in the St. Louis Soccer League double-header* at Sportsman's Park yesterday and in consequence the pennant race takes on a new slant. The Tablers, who were away to a flying start, seem to have lost the secret of a tight defense and suffered their second straight defeat, the Coca-Colas beating them 3 to 2. As the second game opened, the Hallways were in position to increase their lead in the league race

In each case, the winning team owed its margin of victory to a penalty kick. The Tablers, except for the closing minutes of the second half, were outplayed, and the Hellrungs had a hard time keeping the Millers from adding more goals.

Largely through the untiring effort of Johnny Worden, pint-sized inside right forward, the Cocos took a 2-0 lead in the first half. Worden very cleverly feinted a pass to center to throw Fullback

Zenson off stride, then placed the ball on Sullivan's foot. The latter's cross found Joe Hennessy in the right spot. Joe headed to the center of the goal and the ball should never have gotten past Goalender Ducker but it rolled over his hand, into the net, a most Worden's next contribution was a ripping shot from about the penalty line. Dueker this time had no chance to make a stop.

McHenry Scores Goal.

With only one minute remaining of the first half, Fullback Mc-

Girl conceded a corner kick. McHenry's kick from the flag was headed away by Gallagher but Joe Hand got possession and on his good pass to McHenry the latter scored. He hit the ball carefully with the side of his foot and just lifted it over the head of the Late in the second half, Benoit's hands on the ball gave McGirl a penalty kick on which he scored and Eddie Flavin brought the score up to 3-2 with a fine shot from close range.

Throughout the game Goltender McShane created trying situations for himself and demoralized his fullbacks by playing the ball poorly. His catching and punching of high shots was seldom well-timed and his clearances were usually

Joe Phelan got into the game for Kavanaugh's team near the close and gave away two free kicks by committing unnecessary fouls. He seemed all arms. The Tablers scored a goal on one of those free kicks, Zenson to Flaviv and into

Joe Doyle, a black-haired youngster who looks much like Flaviu, relieved Cronin in the second half and did everything but perform miracles with the ball. He's going to be one of St. Louis' greatest soccer players, barring injury.

Lee Hennessy might have given Kavanagh's team another goal or two had his foot been more true. Twice he had the entire goal before him with only the goaltender to beat.

Tracy Returns to Game.
With Raphael Tracy back in the game for the first time since he went to South America with the United States team, last spring, the Ben Millers showed signs of team play. Tracy was severely handicapped by the team's lack of Hughie Hill was at his best and he had much to do with the Millers' improvement in midfield. He started at inside right, shifted to center

Tracy went off the field. His good passes through the center to Boliam and Coughlin worked a lot of damage to the Hellrung cause. The only goal of this game was scored early in the second half on a penalty.

Brady started his team with reserves in two positions. De Gray, who is said to have played in Europe (it's a big place), made his debut at right fullback and lasted about six minutes. At outside left, Eddie Hanson was absent because

On an injury and O'Shaughnessy filled in.

Syl Curran had a big hand in the Miller victory. He got lots of foot on the ball when he tried a shot and he never permitted the opposition to make him hurry his kick, a rare trait.

Paul Lehman, a brother of Big Bill, played the first period at right half for the Millers and made no mistakes. His lack of speed reduced his effectiveness.

One reason the Hellrungs were held scoreless appeared to be that Bill Lehman was giving a major share of his attention to the defense. "It was only in the closing minutes of the game that he worked his way up among his forwards.

Hughie Hill probably will do the Millers more good as center half than anywhere else, and Cleary fits in very nicely at a wing half. The ters.

By Harold Tuthill.
The championship of the Chicago High School League football game will depend upon the outcome of the final game Saturday afternoon when the leading Roosevelt and Soldan will meet in the second game of the doubleheader. Cleveland has a chance to tie Roosevelt's record in the preliminary game at the Public Schools Stadium.

There is little reason to believe that Roosevelt will lose to Soldan because the Rough Riders are in the midst of a powerful punch and on the basis of comparative scores have shown two touchdowns better than Soldan.

Despite Roosevelt's rating, the game will not be uninteresting since Soldan has shown a gradual improvement. Last week the Warriors displayed plenty of ground gaining ability against Cleveland. In the event that Roosevelt loses and Cleveland wins both the South Side schools will own records of three victories and one defeat.

Beaumont, which finished its season last week, will be tied with Soldan for third place and Central will be last.

Although Central has had a week of rest, Cleveland should have difficulty in winning from the Bulldogs. Central has failed to score a point against the league members and unless the Cleveland defense lapses, it will finish its campaign without a score.

The Cleveland team this year possessed of more tricks than Thurston, what with its triple back formation and its spinning plays from the orthodox army foot position. Impossible as it seems, the kicking, passing and running play from the huddle made by the quarterback and two halves on the offensive. Cleveland has scored five touchdowns, the same number as Roosevelt.

A Story of College Athletics

By BOB ZUPPKE

My 50 Years in Baseball

CONNIE MACK Manager of the Philadelphia Athletics

Athletics' Feat of Overcoming Cubs' 8-Run Lead Most Dramatic in Series' History, Says Mack.

No. 61

TO MY mind, the game played on Saturday, Oct. 12, 1929, in Philadelphia will always stand out as the most dramatic in world series history and one that bankrupted the wildest imaginations of the most optimistic baseball follower.

Root was the Chicago pitcher and I nominated Jack Quinn, one of the few remaining kings of the dying dynasty of spitball pitchers.

From the start, Jack, the oldest pitcher in the majors, was skittish and did not seem in key, though he continued to keep the Cubs from scoring in the first three innings.

In the fourth with one on base, Grimm drove the ball over the right-field wall for the circuit, and the Cubs led, 2 to 0.

Walberg made a wild throw on the first play and the Cubs started to measure Quinn again and he scored two runs home, one on base, nobody out and Grimm up, I took him out and sent in Walberg.

Walberg made a wild throw on the first play and the Cubs started to measure Quinn again and he scored two runs home, one on base, nobody out and Grimm up, I took him out and sent in Walberg.

Root blanked us in our half of the sixth and Rommel replaced Walberg in the seventh and the Cubs added another run to make the one-sided fight 8 to 0.

Mack's Followers Stunned.
O'Fallon's followers were stunned. De- feat was a foregone conclusion. Nothing could avert it. The series would be tied and the Athletics had the fight of their lives on hand after their impressive showing in Chicago.

Eight runs in the hole, only three innings for us to bat and Root pitching dazzling ball, I decided that at the end of the seventh inning I would take out my regulars and put in my reserves.

After the seventh, I would not let one of my regulars go any farther. My idea was to give every one of my youngsters a chance to play in a world series game, an aspiration they all had.

I was not trying to show up my regulars but I wanted to give my young players a chance to play in a world series game, an aspiration they all had.

In the last few minutes of play in a full football game, the coaches always put in their deserving substitutes if the game were won or irretrievably lost so they might win their varsity letters. I was going to try the same thing in baseball.

If the earth had not caved in

Tracy Returns to Game.
With Randall Tracy back in the team at the first time since he had been out of the game, the Athletics had a chance to win the series.

Tracy was severely handicapped by the knee injury which he suffered at Montevideo, and he could not continue in the second game.

Ten-Run Rally Saves New Mark For Substitutions

No. 61

IF THE Athletics regulars had not made that stunning rally in the seventh inning of the world series game with the Cubs on Oct. 12, 1929, Connie Mack would have given every substitute a chance to break into the lineup in the last two innings.

He writes in today's installment of his "50 Years in Baseball."

"If the earth had not caved in during the last half of the seventh the Athletics would have set a new record for wholesale substitutions in a world series," he said. "I was not going to try to show up my regulars, but I wanted to give my young players the chance for which they had been praying—go break into a world series lineup."

ing to center, Hack Wilson lost the ball in the sun and it glided past him and rolled to deep center field as three moving figures in white streaked around the paths.

It was a home run, three runs had scored and the Athletics were now only one run behind as the terraced thousands rose to their feet in ecstasy and swept the field with waves of cheer.

The bases were empty and spectators cried: "We will win in the eighth or ninth," but Cochrane started a fresh onset when Nehf walked him.

Blake Replaces Nehf.
O'Fallon went Nehf and in came Blake. Up for the second time, Simmons singled to left and put Cochrane on second. Foxx followed with another timely single and Mickey skipped home with the tying run as spectators, in glee, showed their hats on the field.

Blake was taken out after Foxx's hit and Joe McCarthy called on Malone to save the game. His first act was to hit Miller with a pitch and the bases were loaded.

Up stepped Dykes, who walked and a two-bagger just out of Stephen's reach and two more runs scored to give the Athletics the lead and victory.

Malone then caught his stride and fanned Boley and Burns to end a record world series inning for heavy scoring.

Ten runs in one inning to top an eight-run lead. Spectators could not believe the testimony of their eyes.

As soon as we began to score in this inning, I rushed Grove to the bullpen and he was ready when our long ball ended. He pitched to six Cubs in the last two innings and fanned six of them.

What a victory!

LUIS FIRPO IS ANXIOUS TO TRY RING COMEBACK

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Louis Angel Firpo, the "Wild Bull of the Pampas," is on the rampage again. At least, he wants to be. He said as much to William F. Carey yesterday, and he paid plenty to say it, for he did his talking over the telephone from far-off Buenos Aires. It took the Wild Bull all of 30 minutes to tell it.

The man who seven years ago started the flistic world and Jack Dempsey, by knocking the Manassa Mauler completely out of the ring in their memorable battle in the Polo Grounds, is longing to try a comeback. He told Carey that he has been training in private for many months, and now feels ready to step into the ring and beat Dempsey or Primo Carnera.

These were the only two he mentioned; so, of course, the president of Madison Square Garden had to tell him that Dempsey is retired and Carnera is suspended, but that he had other nice opponents who would do a spanking business with Luis.

Firpo said he plans to come here in April or perhaps earlier, providing his idea of returning to the ring appealed to Carey. Apparently it did, for William F. told Firpo to come ahead.

Firpo has been telling Jimmy de Forest that he intends to stage a comeback. He told Jimmy this on two or three occasions over the long-distance telephone when Suarez was fighting in this country. Firpo is understood to be well fixed financially, and is all of 34 years of age. He confided to de Forest, however, that physicians who examined him found his heart to be that of a man only 30 or 31 because of his exemplary and abstemious habits.

Benid Eleven Wins.
TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Nov. 17.—The Peabody Mine No. 9 football team was defeated by the fast Benid Independent team here yesterday afternoon, 13 to 0, in one of the best games of the season. Benid scored in each of the last two quarters.

Benid defense was excellent, but Eddie Croak was pretty far from the mark with his passes.

The less said about the size of the crowd the better.

The Southwestern Illinois Football Conference title will be at stake Saturday when East St. Louis and Granite City, tied for first place, meet on the East Siders' field. On the same day, Madison goes to Alton, Collinsville to Wood River and Edwardsville plays a non-league game with Livingston.

Belleville will be idle until the Thanksgiving day game with East Side.

Granite City rules as the title favorite after handing Belleville an overwhelming defeat last week, 20-0. The Warriors have met and defeated the "hard" teams of the loop with the exception of East St. Louis, while the East Siders have had setups and now face the toughest part of their card. After Saturday's game Granite City has only to play Edwardsville, while the Flyers must play Belleville.

If Granite City wins from the Flyers, the laurels will be virtually assured, for Edwardsville is not regarded as a threat on the basis of its first game at Alton.

East St. Louis' quarterback, Paddy Warfield, who was injured last week in practice, will probably be out of the Granite City tilt.

Granite City is in top form. Coach Bozart pulled his lads through with his two best men out, but Rich and Coll are now back in harness and gave no evidence of bruises in the Belleville tilt.

Collinsville will try to clinch third position when the Kahoks go to Wood River. Madison may win its first game at Alton. Neither team has won a game thus far, although Alton has tied three, and on that basis will be a slight favorite. Madison lost its sixth straight to Collinsville last week, 40-0, while Alton tied the Edwardsville Tigers, 13-13.

GUS COPULOS MEETS WESTHUS IN BILLIARD MATCH AT PETERSON'S

Bud Westhus, young billiard star who last week won in the Southern division of the Southern sectional, will match his skill against a brilliant opponent when he meets Gus Copulos of Detroit, in exhibition three-cushion matches this afternoon and tonight at Peterson's Academy.

Stated Peterson, executive of the academy, that the match will be played this afternoon at 2:15 and the remaining 50 points tonight, starting at 8 o'clock.

The match with Copulos will help to put Westhus on edge for his match in Decatur, Ill., Wednesday and Thursday, with D. Jacobs, winner of the Northern division tournament.

At the annual business meeting of the Typo Athletic Association held yesterday afternoon, Tony Stockman, was again elected to manage the printer's baseball nine in 1931. Other officers elected by the association are: President, Thomas Collins; vice president, John Collins; executive committee, Edward Springmeyer Sr., and E. E. Steiner.

It was voted to again seek admission to the Empire League of Municipal Baseball Association, of which they have been a member for several seasons.

The 1931 baseball tournament as well as the golf tourney will be held in Hamilton, Ont.

The annual winter meeting of the Union Printers' International Baseball League, of which St. Louis is a member, will be held in Detroit in January.

Morris Dreyfus of the Olympians Club won the handball title in the intermediate-senior division yesterday at the Y. M. H. A. by defeating William Littman of the Y. M. H. A. Pals, 21-12, 20-21 and 21-17. Harry Dreyfus won the intermediate boys' title on a forfeit.

GUS COPULOS MEETS WESTHUS IN BILLIARD MATCH AT PETERSON'S

Bud Westhus, young billiard star who last week won in the Southern division of the Southern sectional, will match his skill against a brilliant opponent when he meets Gus Copulos of Detroit, in exhibition three-cushion matches this afternoon and tonight at Peterson's Academy.

Stated Peterson, executive of the academy, that the match will be played this afternoon at 2:15 and the remaining 50 points tonight, starting at 8 o'clock.

The match with Copulos will help to put Westhus on edge for his match in Decatur, Ill., Wednesday and Thursday, with D. Jacobs, winner of the Northern division tournament.

STOCKS TURN LOWER AFTER 5-DAY RALLY LAST WEEK

Market Sells Off 2 to Nearly 10 Points in Light Trade, the Abrupt Release Virtually Erasing the Improvement of the Last Two Days of the Recovery.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—An abrupt release in today's stock market virtually erased the improvement of the last two days of last week's five-day recovery.

The wave of short covering, which provided much of the impetus for last week's advance, appeared to have been completed, and the market showed renewed resistance to profit-taking and renewed liquidation, selling off 2 to nearly 10 points, although the day's transactions were only about 2,140,000 shares.

Several issues rallied a point or two from the day's lowest in the last few minutes, but final prices generally were not far from the bottom. The copper futures, American Smelting, Kennecott and Cerro de Pasco losing 2 to 4. North American closed off 3, after selling down 5. Shares closing 3 to 4 lower included American Telephone & Telegraph, Consolidated Gas, Du Pont, and American Can.

Wheat & Corn.—The action of the copper issues reflected in part some uncertainty as to whether leading producers would be able to maintain the price of 12 cents a pound for the metal, to which it was advanced last week from 9 1/2 cents. The metal was reported offered by some dealers and speculators at 11 1/2 cents today, although producers generally held firm at the price of 12, and a moderate amount was sold during the morning on this basis.

Wheat reflected reports of recent strong buying by the grain stabilizing corporation, December closed up only 1/4 of a cent, but other positions advanced 1 to 2 cents. Corn, however, was dull, and closed about steady.

The action of the market was about in keeping with Wall Street's expectations, but some observers noted that the rally might carry over a day or two longer. After last week's five-day advance, the most extensive untended action in months, the list ruptured in minutes, a technical reason being that a technical reason was that a technical reason was that a technical reason.

Furthermore, the weekly advance of economic advisory services rather emphatically suggested that investors go slowly, pending conclusive signs of business recovery. Moody's pointed out that while loans to brokers have been reduced by about 70 per cent since September, 1929, total speculative loans outstanding are still large, and come down by only about 38 per cent. This analysis pointed out that bank loans are fundamentally sound, but that the large volume of speculative loans is a source of concern.

Intensive efforts to stabilize the grain market tended to mask sharp declines in stocks, however, until about 10 o'clock, when a statement by Premier Bracken of Manitoba that there appeared no foundation for the fear that the Canadian pool would dump a large quantity of grain on the market was reassuring.

There was little demand for call money, and funds were freely offered in the outside market at 1 1/2 per cent, although the loan desk rate was still 2.

HEALTH

Brief articles prepared by experts. Edited by Dr. J. J. Goldstein, for the New York Academy of Medicine.

Color Blindness.

COLOR blindness is a condition in which the individual is unable to see all the colors of the spectrum.

Normally, we see, and distinguish one from the other, violet, indigo, blue, green, yellow, orange and red.

The markedly color blind person can see only yellow and blue. He cannot distinguish between green and red.

Since these colors are employed as signals in a number of dangerous occupations, such sufferers are handicapped in a variety of ways, even to the point of not being able to drive an automobile in traffic controlled by signal lights.

The less markedly color blind persons can see violet, green and red. The totally color blind person sees the world only in a gray of different shades.

Daughters, as color blindness is sometimes called, after its discoverer Dalton (1769), is an hereditary defect. It is transmitted by the color blind father to his daughters, who, though themselves are not color blind, transmit the defect to about half of their sons.

When the father is color blind, and the mother is not, the daughters are color blind fathers, their daughters, too, may suffer the defect.

About four per cent of all males are color blind, while the prevalence of this defect is only two-tenths of one per cent among females.

This defect may also be acquired. In this form, it is usually due to excess indulgence in alcohol, and to immediate smoking.

The prevention of inherited color blindness is a problem of eugenics, and is an item to be considered in the marriage of blood kin.

Fried Apples.

For those who do not consider a dinner complete without an entrée, fried apples are a nice change. Six apples, two tablespoons butter, three tablespoons sugar. Wash apples, core and cut into slices. Melt butter in a saucepan, add apples, sprinkling with sugar and then covering with a lid. Cook slowly until tender, then remove lid and brown lightly.

HEAD COLDS

Melt in boiling water and inhale vapors; also snuff up nose.

College Women
vs. College Men

The Latter Are Still Far Ahead in the Race for Good Places in Business.

A COMPARISON of the recently published average salary figures of Barnard College alumnae with those graduates from Dartmouth College, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Princeton reveals that college women still have a steep climb to make before they equal the earnings of college men.

While Barnard women average a salary of $2458 a year, alumni of Dartmouth, M. I. T. and Princeton far outdistance her with average earnings of $6423, $5066 and $11,094 respectively, according to statistics provided by the Intercollegiate Alumni Extension Service, Inc., which has just completed a survey of earnings in the 13 leading colleges and universities of the country.

The Barnard figures are considerably lower than those of the other two colleges. The Princetonian, who earns four times as much as the Barnard graduate and twice as much as the Dartmouth graduate, starts life with a more or less substantial pay check in his pocket and so should not be taken into consideration.

Old Blowy.

THE Little Black Clock got down from his place on the desk in the back hall where he stood at all times except when he took John and Peggy on adventures.

He always had his hands pointed to 7 o'clock for others to see. He had agreed that he would not tell the ordinary time if he could not make the magic which would make it possible for him to turn the time backward and forward.

As soon as the Clock got down from the desk, they started off, and after they had made a turn, and then one more turn, they arrived at the most untidy looking place they had ever seen.

And yet the place had a certain charm about it.

Things were blown everywhere, and nothing seemed to be in any special place.

Leaves looked as though they had fallen so as to make a house of leaves and then had started to blow away, and there were sticks lying here and there without any particular arrangement.

Suddenly there appeared an old man. He looked very, very, very strong, in spite of his age, for certainly he looked old.

"Well, I'm glad to see you," said the Clock to him. "I'm glad to see you," said the Clock to him.

"I hope they won't mind the look of my place. I hadn't time to tidy it all."

"And if I had had time I would have made it untidy again in no time. Just my way, children, just my way. I hope you can stand an upset place."

"I hope they won't mind the look of my place. I hadn't time to tidy it all."

BACKGAMMON Is the RAGE HERE

Ancient Game, So Popular in East, Catches On in St. Louis—Many Bridge Players Turn to It for New Form of Excitement.

By MARGUERITE MARTYN

Do you play backgammon?

If the answer is No, then you are to be regarded if not hopelessly benighted, at least horribly Western unless you mend your ways.

If the answer is Yes, then you are to be identified as one who visited the Eastern seaboard in your summer travels. And you needn't go on to tell me what a fascinating game it is. I've heard nothing else the past few weeks.

How much livelier, speedier, more sporting, more sociable a game it is than auction or contract. How you absolutely couldn't go anywhere without running into a game of backgammon and couldn't get anywhere socially unless you played. How backgammon boards everywhere, the tea tables, even the dinner table between courses. How attractive the new boards are with their striking color combinations and how cunningly their patterns fit into a modernistic decorative scheme.

How distinctive and individual they may be and how in their portable cases they accompanied everybody everywhere, were always to be observed as one article in any pile of smart luggage and boxes.

How you always carried a pocket edition set to be ready for any emergency. How exciting the game is and how, "My dear, it is simply appalling the amount of money you can make or lose at a single sitting." This last assertion rather clinches the argument, for who among us does not prick up our ears at a hint of picking up a little change even on the chance of losing some?

But still one hears from the hinterlands a persistent "No, I don't play backgammon and I don't want to. I don't believe it can possibly be as good a game as contract or even auction. I seem to recall a game called mah jong. I wonder what became of that mah jong set for which I paid $25?"

Right away you unregenerate are letting yourself in for a lot of proselytizing. If there is anything a backgammonist can't seem to abide is being reminded of mah jong. Backgammon is an old tried and true game with a lot of science in it, they tell you. If there was any science about mah jong it is still the secret of the Chinese.

SOONER or later, I predict, you are going to find yourselves seduced into a backgammon lesson. You may fall for it under the delusion that it is a tea or luncheon invitation. If after the lesson you persist in saying, "It is all as clear as mud to me," you are going to find yourself stigmatized as possessing that most conspicuous attribute of the Missouri mule. You are going to hear the teacher say, "It was the same way when I tried to introduce contract. You wouldn't learn. You couldn't be convinced. It would ever become so prevalent as to supplant auction. And now you know you wouldn't go back to auction. You couldn't if you would. No really good bridge player would play with you."

And you are not going to remain long in that position with your ears laid back and your forefeet planted in the ground. Or they may take a halter to you.

At least that seems to be indicated from a survey of the local backgammon situation.

"At first it was really pitiful, the lack of interest," said Mrs. Rufus Lackland Taylor, well known teacher of bridge. "But they are coming to it," she adds with an air of resolution. "My classes are increasing. It is just the old story of Missourians having to be shown and convinced of the advantage of anything new."

Mrs. Fred Ullman, another leading bridge teacher, sounds a more optimistic note and Cornelia McNair Murphy tells quite a different story. Possibly it is because she never before heard anything professionally, hadn't participated in the bridge teaching harvest, that she has discovered in backgammon teaching what she describes as a "gold mine." Anyway, every hour of her day and evening is now given over to backgammon lessons in her own apartment, in clubs, in private houses, anywhere that two or more are gathered together and are able to engage her services long enough in advance. She possesses the honor of having been delegated Mrs. Hattersley's personal representative in St. Louis after having gone on, taken her course, mastered her system, being awarded a diploma and everything.

THERE is another instance of a prophet being not without honor or save in his own country. St. Louis may be a little obstinate about the backgammon craze but it is Mrs. Lolla Hattersley, former St. Louisian here she became one of the best known bridge teachers in New York, who has become the leading spirit in popularizing backgammon in the East.

It was not she who resurrected the game from its inception somewhere back in the dark ages. Hoyle is responsible for that at the same time he standardized other games. Probably his most recent revival was due to that revolting law which seems to govern fashions. Anyway, with other Victorian modes, long skirts, curves and puffs and frills, backgammon showed up, too.

But no longer is it the game over which our Victorian forebears spent so many leisurely hours. Like all resurrected fashions, it has undergone modern adaptations. The new backgammon appears with many innovations. It is these along with a system of her own that Mrs. Hattersley has compiled into her book, "The New Backgammon," which is enjoying great demand as a text book.

This author of one of the first books on contract bridge now says

of backgammon: "The recent tremendous vogue of backgammon is doubtless due to the fact that it is a game thoroughly attuned to the modern spirit of youth. It answers the demands of our times for unfettered, fast-moving, exciting amusement."

IT IS the new features which have speeded up the game. Optional doubling, for example, enables 10 games to be played where one used to drag on to a tedious foregone conclusion. Then there are automatic doubles and these are what make it a thrilling and hazardous pastime. If in casting for the first move the player happens to throw matching dice, his original stake is automatically doubled. A second tie redoubles the doubled stake and so on. Five doubles you can readily see increase your stake from one to 32. Ten doubles set you backward or forward 1024 points.

Chouette, another new feature changing it from a two-handed game to a diversion in which any number up to six may take part, makes it a more sociable game. One explanation of backgammon's new-found popularity is to be found in the fact that it allows of unlimited kibitzing. Only two players actually shake the dice and move the men, but the others while waiting their turns at the board are expected to aid with advice, criticism and comment. You may kibitzer all you want without being called a nuisance. But without responsibility. You have to contribute to the stake and you participate in the losses or winnings as the case may be.

Played as our ancestors played it, its devotees claim it still is a scientific gambling game. With its new features it requires added alertness, quickness, foresightedness, but not the prolonged concentration it formerly required. "Unlike chess or bridge or love or the stock market," says Mrs. Hattersley, "it does not demand the whole man."

FOR ANY CHILD

CHILDREN are happy and carefree by nature, and when they cry for no apparent reason any careful mother worries. No one can always guess just what is wrong but the remedy can always be the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as baby has a fretful spell, is feverish and cross and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Sometimes it's constipation. Just keep Castoria handy and give freely for any of the above conditions; relief will follow promptly.

All through babyhood, Castoria is a mother's standby, and wise mothers do not change to stronger medicines as the child grows older. Just increase the dose of Castoria and keep the youngster's stomach sweet and the bowels in good order.

To be sure of getting genuine Fletcher's Castoria you should look for this signature: Fletcher's

OF A WOMAN

By Marguerite M. Marshall

HE THAT HATH EYES.

SO many American women must have read this week, with deep sympathy, with fervent hope that the worst may not happen, A news dispatch from Baltimore, telling of the threat of blindness to Booth Tarkington—

The novelist who perhaps of all men sees more clearly, accurately yet tenderly,

The charms and weaknesses, the virtues and failings of his countrywomen.

Mr. Tarkington is practically unable to use his right eye. Because of detachment of the retina. Although he is making an excellent recovery.

Surgeons at the Wilmer Institute of Johns Hopkins Hospital hope to save the left eye's failing sight. And, if they are successful, may try to restore vision to the other.

We all must hope earnestly that they will win their fight. Against the powers of darkness. Since blindness is the most terrible fate which can afflict the living. And is especially appalling for the novelist.

Whose eyes bring to him the raw material.

From which he shapes the finished product of his work.

Yet, of Booth Tarkington's innumerable readers and admirers, we think that women.

Should wish with special earnestness for complete recovery of sight.

By the great writer whose dark eyes have studied the American woman these many years.

With such quiet, humorous, pervasive, sympathetic understanding.

Booth Tarkington is not merely the creator of Penrod and of Willie Baxter—

Immortal types of the American boy.

Booth Tarkington knows as perfectly his American girls and women!

What a gallery they are, beginning with the golden-curl, dancing-school queen of Penrod's stubborn soul.

And Willie Baxter's baby-talk lady—

(If you don't believe in her, read "The Wives and Daughters.")

How girls at the State Normal College in Ypsilanti, Mich., refused to be cured of lisping.

Because they said it made them more attractive to male students!

What mother of a growing girl can forget Tarkington's amused analysis of Gentle Julia, the superlative sister?

What woman who knows her sex can fail to appreciate

His undeluded penetration of The Flirt's cold, shallow heart.

His flawless picture of the outer and inner self

The Bride's Sister

I WOULD like to know the proper form to be used on a wedding invitation where the following situation exists: The prospective bride has no parents, but has a married sister. Is it proper for the sister of the bride to announce the marriage on the wedding invitation, or should the parents of the prospective groom make such an announcement, as, for example, "Mrs. John Smith cordially invites you to attend the marriage of her sister, Mary Smith, to Mr. Richard Brown." Or, "Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brown cordially invite you to attend the marriage of their son, Richard Jr., to Miss Mary Smith?"

Avoid Half-Cured Colds!

Half-cured colds are a source of great danger! Many a case of Flu grows out of them. When you catch cold take steps to get it out of your system quickly and cleanly. That calls for something more than your old-fashioned cold "cures." It calls for a treatment such as McKesson's Darol. Darol acts with double speed and effectiveness. Tends to change the system from an acid condition to an alkaline condition, in which cold and grippe germs do not thrive. Two tablets every three hours with a full glass of water will usually relieve a cold in 6 hours. No bad effects on stomach. Equally effective for headaches and the pains of neuralgia and neuritis. Get Darol at all McKesson Service Drugists and other independent druggists with guarantee of satisfaction or money back. A McKesson and Robbins product.

Cook together one cup scalded milk, three-quarters cup soft bread-crumbs, one tablespoon butter, one-half teaspoon salt and one-quarter teaspoon paprika for three minutes.
